Appointive Assessors Axed In Committee 6-1

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

A bill which would place on the ballot a constitutional amendment authorizing appointment — rather than election — of county assessors was killed Wednesday by a 6-1 vote of the Unicameral's Government and Military Affairs Committee.

The measure, LB381, was opposed by the County Assessors Association, after a poll of 72 assessors found that 50 are against such legislation.

Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, chief sponsor of the proposal, told the committee he is willing to "respect their wishes" regarding the bill, and will not press for its adoption at this time.

McClelland Proposal

The measure was one of a series of recommendations proposed by Dr. Harold McClelland to the Legislative Council tax study committee headed by Bowen.

Another tax study bill proposing a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for appointment of county boards of equalization was advanced to the floor on a 7-0 count.

The measure, LB383, attracted no opposition at the public hearing.

LB387, heard Monday, was killed on a 5-2 vote. It would have directed county assessors to mail tax notices to all owners of real and personal property by Nov. 1 each year.

Training Held

A fourth tax study bill, LB382, providing for training and certification of county assessors under direction of the state tax commissioner, was held for further study.

Bowen is now batting 7 for 9 on tax study measures acted upon by legislative committees.

In other action, the government unit killed on a 5-0 count LB393, proposing a constitutional amendment which would allow the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general to be candidates for governor.

Broadening Fails

An amendment to broaden the bill's scope to include all directors of code departments failed prior to axing of the measure.

Advanced to the floor on a 6-0 vote was LB259, which — as amended — would allow city councils in first class cities to determine by a two-thirds vote whether their city clerks and treasurers should be elected or appointed.

In supporting the appointive assesor bill, Bowen noted that assessors often do not now have technical skills necessary to do a competent job, that voters may judge by standards other than competence and that "poor assessment may win votes."

Washington County Assessor Earl Long said the bill would "open the door for appointment of all other elected officials."

1954 Too

Nebraska voters, he said, turned thumbs down on the question of appointing assessors when the issue was placed on the state ballot in 1954.

The County Assessors Association also voiced its opposition to certain provisions in LB382, the assessor training proposal.

As drafted, the measure would force incumbents to qualify for certification, but would not extend the same requirements to other candidates for assessor.

Lord Hearing March 8 On 1st-Degree Charge

By TOM KEITH
Star Staff Writer

A.1c James E. Lord, 21, of 810 So. 11th, Wednesday requested a preliminary hearing after Lancaster County Attorney Paul Douglas charged him with first degree murder in the death of his 22-year-old wife, Suzanne.

Lord requested the hearing after speaking to his parents and his attorney (by telephone). County Judge Ralph Slocum, presiding at the arraignment, set the hearing for March 8.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp and Police Chief Joseph Carroll led the handcuffed airman into the courtroom while his mother cried and his father bowed his head.

The complaint charged Lord with first degree murder and said Lord "did feloniously, purposely and of his own deliberate and premeditated malice kill Suzanne Lord, on or about the 26th of February."

Her body, with numerous stab wounds, was found in the Lord apartment Tuesday morning.

Voice Trembles

Lord answered Douglas's questions at the arraignment in a weak and trembling voice.

The county attorney said Lord's parents hired a Des Moines, Iowa, lawyer for their son.

Lord gave police a statement Tuesday afternoon, admitting that he killed his wife, and later verified it, but has not yet signed it, Douglas said.

Police were unsuccessful Wednesday in a search in a field on West A for a knife believed used in the slaying. Douglas said a pathologist reported more than one weapon was used.

Lord said he drove to West A and threw a knife into a field before reporting his wife's death to police Tuesday morning, according to Douglas. One blood-stained kitchen knife was found in the Lord apartment.

Went To Bed

Douglas said Lord told him he went to bed after killing his wife following an argument over his conduct early Tuesday, and awakened about 9 a.m.

Lord left his 2-year-old son, Jimmy, in the apartment when he left to discard the knife, Douglas said. The airman told Douglas Jimmy was walking about the apartment when he awakened Tuesday and that he put the boy back in bed before leaving.

Returning to the apartment, Lord called police to report his wife's death because he thought the body "would be found, anyway," Douglas said.

With Grandfather

Lord's two small children, Jimmy and Keith, about 2½ months old, are temporarily in the custody of Suzanne Lord's father, Melvin S. Grove of Ankeny, Iowa. Douglas said Lord's parents agreed to Grove's temporary custody of the boys. Both grandparents have said they would seek permanent custody, however.

Keith was released Wednesday from Bryan Memorial Hospital, where he had been treated for an illness since last Thursday.

Douglas said Lord had not expressed, to him, any concern over the children.

Lord is being held in the city jail. Bond is not permitted on first-degree murder charges, which carry a penalty on conviction of execution or life imprisonment.

LAST DAYS HERE FOR LICENSES, COUNTY TAXES

Lancaster County residents are reminded that Thursday is the deadline for obtaining 1963 license plate tags, and Friday is the last day for filing personal property tax schedules.

Licenses may be obtained Thursday in the Motor Vehicle Department in the basement of the Courthouse.

Motor vehicles not bearing 1963 tags will be ticketed after midnight Thursday.

Personal property schedules must be filed in the Lancaster County assessor's office before 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Those filed after March 1 will be assessed the penalties prescribed by law.

U.N. Boss Asks Black To Collect Back Dues

United Nations (UPI)—Secretary General Thant has asked Eugene R. Black, former president of the World Bank, to head a drive to collect close to $122 million in back dues owed the United Nations, it was disclosed Wednesday.

Formal announcement of Black's appointment is expected to be made next week, informed sources said.

Black, who retired Jan. 1 as president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (World Bank), is slated to join Thant's inner cabinet in a consultant's capacity.

However, informed sources said his post would be the equivalent of "finance minister" of the United Nations. His function would be to serve as a global collections manager, seeking indirect contact with governments, to persuade them to pay up the $121,620,857.70 (M) in arrearages listed on the world organization's financial statement of last Dec. 31.

The decision to engage Black on a consultative basis eliminated any dispute about making him a U.N. undersecretary, although it was understood that his post would carry the prequisite of Thant's top-ranked assistant. He may work only part-time, however.

Black, 64, served as president of the bank from July 1, 1949, until his retirement to re-enter business in New York this year. He is a native of Atlanta, Ga. He carried his reputation as an international financial expert into the boards of several corporations when he left the bank.

Peace-Keeping

The bulk of the arrearage owed the United Nations is for the peace-keeping operations in the Congo and the Middle East.

A total of $76,209,612.15 is owed for the Congo operation by 67 of the organization's 110 members. Fifty-eight owe $27,646,639.27 for the U.N. Emergency Force (UNEF), stationed on the Israeli-Egyptian border since the 1956 Suez war.

For the regular budget assessments, $17,747,863.28 is owed by 47 countries, some of whose arrearages date back to 1959.

The Soviet Union, France, South Africa, Belgium and several other countries refused to pay any part of the peace-keeping costs in the Congo or the Middle East.

The International Court of Justice handed down an advisory opinion last July stating that such peace-keeping costs are a rightful part of the U.N. budget. By a 76-17 vote the General Assembly last Dec. 19 made the world court opinion U.N. law.

The No. 1 U.N. debtor is the Soviet Union. It owes $32,052,762 for the Congo operation, $14,218,188 for UNEF, and $3,692,107 for the regular budget. Coupled with total arrearages of $6,921,127.16 for the Ukraine and $1,792,985 for Byelorussia — the two components parts of the Soviet Union given U.N. membership at the 1945 charter convention — Russia's total debt is $46,007,223.16.

France, which paid all its obligations except the Congo costs, owes $14,186,015. Belgium, behind $798,899 on its assessment, in addition to its total share of the Congo costs, owes $2,876,284.

Justices Stewart And Black Feud Over Religious Cases

Washington (UPI) — The Supreme Court heard arguments Wednesday in two new religion-in-school cases with two of the justices in open conflict over the issue.

A sharp rift between Justices Potter Stewart and Hugo Black became obvious shortly after arguments began on challenges to the reading of the Bible and the Lord's Prayer in Baltimore and Philadelphia schools.

Six other justices questioned the attorneys before them frequently but displayed none of the friction that prevailed between Stewart and Black. Justice Tom C. Clark was the only one who did not raise any open questions.

Only Dissenter

In the hotly-disputed decision last term that outlawed the reading of a state-written prayer in New York schools, Stewart was the only dissenter while Black wrote the majority opinion.

The Baltimore case was the first on the hearing docket. It arose from a 1905 rule that reading of the Bible and-or recitation of the Lord's Prayer without comment should be conducted in the city schools.

Mrs. Madalyn E. Murray, who is bringing up her son, William Murray III, as an atheist protested the practice even though objecting pupils could be excused from the brief ceremonies.

Stewart interrupted when Mrs. Murray's attorney, Leonard J. Kerpelman, referred to a "wall of separation between church and state."

The justice said there was no such language in the Constitution and questioned Kerpelman's interpretation.

Later when Stewart commented that the Baltimore parent wanted the prayer "for the free exercise of religion," Black broke in to declare: "They want to use the taxpayers' money to carry out their religious exercises."

Sobering

Attorneys for the Baltimore school board have described the prayer recitation as something "sobering and morally beneficial" to begin the school day rather than a religious exercise.

But Black, who was 77 Wednesday, commented, "why only 5 minutes? Why not the whole day?"

Black, Stewart and Kerpelman seemed in agreement that a silent prayer by pupils wishing to participate would be constitutional.

Kerpelman raised no objection to a school course dealing with religious history but said the Baltimore practice is "a religious ceremony with the approval of the school."

He also said in response to a question by Justice John M. Harlan that the practice of reciting the Lord's Prayer has been "tolerated and blinked at for so long that it is now a tradition."

"But we can't repeal the Constitution by this particular means," he argued.

No Wall

Baltimore city solicitor Francis B. Burch told the court there is no "absolute, fixed, finite wall" separating church and state.

He agreed that the New York prayer was unconstitutional because it had been composed by state officials. But the Lord's Prayer or passages from the Bible, he contended, were permissible because they were taken from "ancient documents."

The court will hear concluding arguments on the Philadelphia case Thursday.

Objecting

In that case, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Schempp, parents of two Abington Township school children, are objecting to a state law requiring the reading of 10 verses of the Bible without comment at the start of the school day.

In the Baltimore dispute, the Maryland Court of Appeals upheld the constitutionality of the practice. In the Philadelphia case, a special 3-judge federal court found the practice there unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court is not expected to rule in the new religious cases for at least several weeks.

Cuba Backed By N-Threat

. . . PLEDGE COVERS OTHERS

Moscow (UPI)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev warned Wednesday that a U.S. invasion of Cuba would be met by a Soviet thermonuclear attack that would crush the West the first day. But he coupled the warning with a hint of compromise on Berlin.

Khrushchev extended the defense pledge to Red China, North Korea, North Viet Nam, East Germany and all other Communist nations although he acknowledged that the "imperialist camp is armed to the teeth."

In an 87-minute radio-television election speech to the nation Khrushchev said Soviet armed forces would "rout out" the imperialists if they attack Cuba — an implication the Russians would fight on Cuban soil.

"The President of the United States pledged himself not to attack Cuba and we agreed to withdraw strategic missiles and IL28 bombers from Cuba and did withdraw them," Khrushchev said.

Not Abandoned

"But this does not mean that we have abandoned heroic Cuba to the big sharks of American imperialism. We gave the Cuban people our word, the word of a brother, that the Soviet Union would come to Cuba's assistance and we shall not leave her in the hour of need."

(Khrushchev previously has spoken of a pledge by President Kennedy not to invade Cuba but the United States does not recognize such a pledge because it did not win the right of on-site inspection in Cuba to make sure all offensive weapons were withdrawn.)

Khrushchev vowed that Russia would keep up its military might as long as a threat exists and said Western insistence on using inspection for espionage purposes ruled out any further Soviet concessions on the question of a nuclear test ban.

Points

Khrushchev made these other points:

—The enemies of communism should realize that disputes such as that between Communist China and Russia will be overcome.

—The Soviet Union is ready to sign a disarmament treaty now but the imperialists are hampering success by building up NATO.

—The Soviet Union will make no more concessions to the West to write a nuclear test ban treaty.

Fraternizing

—France is fraternizing with the revenge-seeking West Germans and any war brought by the revenge-seekers will turn against France.

—NATO and the Warsaw Pact powers should sign a treaty of non-aggression but the West fears this would be a serious moral victory for the Communists.

—The tension in central Europe is brought by the lack of a peace treaty recognizing two Germanies; Russia will continue to seek a treaty.

—The Soviet Union's industrial growth is coming along to the point where "we are treading on the heels of the United States."

Ignored

The premier, who covered a wide range of internal and international topics, completely ignored the question of 17,000 Russians still in Cuba, 6,000 of them combat troops.

But speaking about Berlin, he dropped what looked like another strong hint that he was ready to consider an agreement to leave Allied troops in West Berlin if they would remain there under the United Nations flag.

He said there could be no peace in the world until there is a German peace treaty. But he said the Soviets held that an agreement on Berlin should fix the existing situation "as it has shaped itself after the routing of the Hitlerite aggressors."

Willing

Western diplomats here interpreted the phrase as an indication the Kremlin was willing, at least for a while, to accept a continued Allied troop presence in West Berlin.

In general, Westerners here regarded the premier's speech as more stern in tone than in content.

None of his warnings went beyond previous Soviet declarations — even in the case of Cuba where Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky threatened last Friday that any attack on the island would mean a thermonuclear world war.

U.S. Says Russia Didn't Win Pledge

Washington (UPI) — United States officials Wednesday rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's assertion that he had won a Cuban "no invasion" pledge from President Kennedy in return for pulling offensive weapons out of the island.

They said the President had made it clear that any formal promise not to invade Cuba was conditioned on Khrushchev fulfilling all of his promises — including the one to permit international on-site inspection of Cuban territory to prove all the missiles and bombers were gone.

The Soviet premier failed to make good on this promise, due to objections by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Thus, the United States does not consider that any "no invasion" pledge was given.

It was emphasized, however, that the United States has no plans for invading the island unless the Russians or Cubans there undertake aggressive actions which would spark armed conflict.

There was no inclination in official U.S. quarters to publicly dispute Khrushchev's remarks. It was recognized that he knows the true situation but must, at this juncture of his split with Red China, claim what he can out of the Cuban debacle.

Officials here found no surprises in Khrushchev's electioneering speech. They were more interested in what he did not say than what he did.

It was noted that the Soviet leader failed to accept the Chinese Communist challenge for a public debate of the issues between the two countries. These issues were set forth Tuesday in Peking by an official article charging the Russian leadership with "perfidiously and unilaterally" breaking a number of agreements with Red China. The lengthy article, in the Peking People's Daily, demanded a full apology from Moscow as a preliminary to any talks to heal the Sino-Soviet breach.

Khrushchev's speech, with its emphasis on peaceful coexistance and renewed attacks on the Western powers, appeared to be an effort to restore the unity of the bloc while working privately for negotiations with Peking to settle the split within the Communist camp.

Lazy, Oversexed, Domineering And Frivolous

...EUROPEANS DESCRIBE U.S. WOMEN

Washington (UPI)—A good many Europeans consider American women lazy, oversexed, domineering, frivolous, or just plain lacking in good taste.

That and other conclusions were reported in 34 U.S. "prestige" polls conducted by the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) and made public Wednesday under an arrangement with a congressional committee. All were a year or more old.

A September, 1960, study said people in Britain, France, West Germany and Italy had a "far from favorable" opinion of American youths and only a slightly better regard for U.S. women.

Those who had a "favorable" impression of American women amounted to only 11% in France, 18% in West Germany, 34% in Britain and 36% in Italy.

The U.S. women scored better with their feminine counterparts in Britain, France and Italy than with the males of those countries. In Germany it was the men who gave American women their best marks.

The polls also showed that President Kennedy took office in 1961 with a reservoir of international good will; that most Latin Americans had a "negative" attitude toward Fidel Castro in February, 1961; and that before the 1960 U2 incident, former President Eisenhower's personal rating was far higher in West Germany than in Britain or France.

USIA director Edward R. Murrow and Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., of the House Information Committee, agreed on a policy under which the polls will be released on a delayed basis. Some may be kept secret indefinitely if "the interest of national security requires them to remain classified."

The Eisenhower administration's refusal to make public the polls became an issue in the 1960 election when then Sen. John F. Kennedy said they showed U.S. prestige was "slipping."

The issue of the polls release arose again recently and Moss prodded USIA to make them public. The arrangements for their publication appeared to be something of a compromise.

Confined

A number of the polls were confined to such narrow subjects as "radio listenership in Taiwan." But among those of more general interest, there were these findings:

—One fourth of the West Germans polled blamed the United States for the failure of the May, 1960, summit conference following the U2 incident. In Britain and France, a majority blamed the United States. In July, 1960, 63% of Norwegians, whose country was the destination of the U2, said such flights were not justified.

—President Eisenhower's personal esteem in Norway dropped from 70% in 1957 to 46% in June, 1960. Forty-nine per cent of Britons, 38% of Frenchmen, and 65% of West Germans liked Eisenhower in May, 1960.

—A survey in 17 countries in January, 1961, just after Kennedy's election, rated him 68% in average "esteem" around the world. The range ran from 90% in Lima, Peru, to 34% in India.

—The same poll said 27% in France thought U.S. policy toward Russia was too hard and 30% thought it was too soft.

—A February, 1961, poll on Latin American opinion of Fidel Castro reported a "predominant negative reaction" to the Cuban leader. Nineteen per cent of urban Brazilians and 86% of rural Brazilians had never heard of Castro. Castro polled slightly better among men than women. Latin Americans who liked Castro cited his economic policies and "land reform."

USIA officials said that during the period of the 34 polls no polls were held back, but some may be in the future, particularly if they would embarrass foreign governments.

Both Sexes Defend American Females

New York (AP)—Is the emancipated American woman too domineering, lazy, unfeminine and sexually forward?

A sampling of emancipated American women across the country responded to that question Wednesday with a resounding "no." And several male sociologists and family counselors agreed with them.

The question was raised by a U.S. Information Agency poll which reported that some Europeans think American women "wear the trousers" in the average family.

Specialists

The Associated Press asked some leading American women and family specialists to comment on the poll. Here are their answers:

Dr. Paul Poponoe, director of the American Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles, said the problem is too many Europeans "get their impressions of Americans largely from the movies, which do not give a very objective picture.

"We get a similar impression of French women from Brigitte Bardot, and of Italian women from Gina Lolobrigida," he continued. "There again, we'd be terribly off the beam."

Not Normal

Miss Jessie F. Binford of Chicago, former executive director of the Juvenile Protective Association, agreed, saying that Europeans "don't see Americans in normal situations.

"I don't think American women are too bossy, unwomanly or forward," she said. "They are taking tremendous responsibilities very seriously, in addition to all their responsibilities as mothers and wives. I think American women are independent, but I don't think that detracts at all from their womanly qualities."

Said Mrs. Martha Tredway, 42, designer for her husband's children's wear plant at Denison, Tex., and recent unsuccessful candidate for the U.S. Senate on a Women's Business Rights platform:

Feminine

"Even though I and many thousands of other women work, we are just as feminine as any European woman. I think my husband would say the same thing."

Noting that the USIA poll showed praise for the independence of American women, Dr. Peter Rossi, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, said you can't have it both ways.

"We can't have free women and obsequious, well-behaved, tame ones at the same time," Rossi said. "What appears to be domineering is the assertion of rights that are not well distributed in European families."

What About It?

What about the charge that American women are sexually forward?

"For the first time, women are able to express their full sexual potential," said James Peterson, chairman of the University of Southern California's sociology department. "This leads to a more whole life and happier marriages."

The prevailing opinion among American women was best summed up by Judge Theresa Meikle of San Francisco, who called the American woman "the greatest power for good in the world today."

KANSAS DRY FORCES ON THE MOVE

The Rev. Roy E. Holloman, head of the Kansas United Dry Forces, is leading a drive for the return of prohibition in the state. The drive came when hotel and restaurant operators asked the legislature in Topeka to legalize sales of alcohol by the drink with meals. The dry forces countered with a strong move for a resubmission of the entire alcohol question—hoping to set aside all sales of alcohol.

Soviet Scientist Raps Triton Tale

Moscow (AP) —A prominent Soviet scientist Wednesday described as pure invention a Russian report that two prehistoric tritons (salamanders) were revived after lying frozen for 5,000 years.

The story, broadcast to the West by Radio Moscow Tuesday, was published in December by the Soviet literary magazine Neva.

Informed by telephone of the Neva account, Prof. Gleb Lozinolozinsky of the Leningrad Institute of Cytology said the story first appeared in a children's book. Cytology is a branch of biology dealing with the structure, life and function of cells.

"I remember reading two years ago a book by a writer for children about geologists traveling in Siberia to the effect that they had found tritons in the layer of eternally frozen ground," the professor said. "This fact was never established."

He said he had met the writer of the Neva magazine article and told him the story was not true.

"On the basis of my experiments," the professor said, "I can say the story published in Neva has nothing to do with science. Such facts have never been published in the scientific press and, as a specialist, I categorically deny them."

Natty Pauper Has Trouble Finding Work

London (UPI) — Pity poor Baron Nugent of Clonlost, Ireland. He is broke, in debt and so well-dressed he has trouble finding a job.

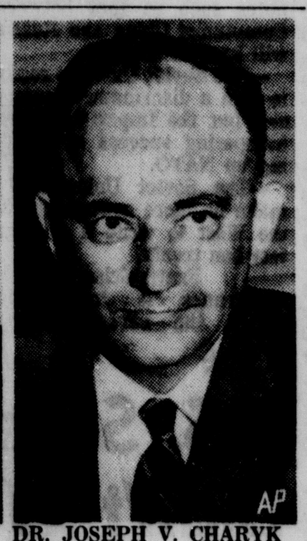

Only Tuesday, he said, he was refused a job as a taxi driver because he was wearing a custom tailored Savile Row suit and had to settle for a $22.40 a week job as a clerk.

The cab company boss just laughed at him when he showed up.

"If I had worn jeans and a sweater I suppose I would have got the job," the 45-year-old noble said. "What they didn't know was that I couldn't afford shabby clothes. All I have are Saville Row suits."

LEO D. WELCH

DR. JOSEPH V. CHARYK

Top Positions In Communications Corporation Go To Welch, Charyk

Washington (AP)—The No. 1 man in the new U.S. Communications Satellite Corporation will be a 64-year-old international business expert, Leo D. Welch. The No. 2 job will go to a brilliant 42-year-old Canadian-born space-missile scientist, Dr. Joseph V. Charyk.

The White House announced Wednesday that President Kennedy will nominate both men to the board of directors of the fledgling commercial space venture, opening the way for their selection as its top officials.

Kennedy does not name the chairman and president of the corporation but picks 3 of the 15 directors. The board elects the officers. But the White House confirmed that Welch, chairman of the board of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, is to become chairman and chief executive officer, and that Charyk, undersecretary of the Air Force, will become president.

Interim Board

Welch and Charyk will be picked by an interim board organized to get the organization incorporated. Later, a permanent board will be chosen to include 6 chosen by public stockholders and 6 by communications industry stockholders along with the presidential nominees.

The salaries of the two jobs have not been decided. But officials familiar with the plan said Welch will receive $125,000 a year and Charyk $80,000 —far more than his $20,000 as No. 2 Air Force civilian.

The Rochester, N.Y., born Welch is a 1919 graduate of the University of Rochester. In that year he joined the National City Bank of New York and was sent to Argentina, where he climbed the ladder of success and branched out in 25 years with the bank.

He was in charge of National City's Caribbean operation when he joined Standard Oil in 1944. He moved up from treasurer step by step to his present job by 1957. Welch and his wife, who have one daughter, live in New York City.

Two Years

The goal is to have the corporation functioning in two years. In cooperation with other countries, it will develop and operate a commercial system of communications satellites for telephone, telegraph, television, photographic and other communications media.

Finances — obviously the province of Welch — will be the next big job. This will involve the sale of stock — at nor more than $100 a share — with half going to the general public and half to existing communications companies.

The corporation expects to offer stock before Feb. 28, 1964, the deadline for arranging interim financing while studies are conducted.

$5 Million

As part of the interim arrangement, the corporation announced Wednesday that it has negotiated with a group of 10 banks to borrow up to $5 million. The Federal Communications Commission approved an intitial borrowing of $500,000.

The loans from the 10 banks will bear interest at the current rate for unsecured 90-day loans to prime commercial borrowers. The rate is now 4½% a year.

Charyk, who presumably will be the technical expert in getting the international commercial venture in operation, is the son of a Polish-born railroad man. He grew up in Canmore, Alberta, and was graduated from the University of Alberta.

-DUBIOUS HONOR-

W. German Officials Advertise Smuggler

Berlin (AP) — They posted Rudi Heidemann's name all over West Berlin Wednesday. It was a dubious honor. Rudi was being advertised as a smuggler.

The 37-year-old businessman is the first West German to have his name posted on public bulletin boards for buying goods the East Germans sell at cut-rate prices, then selling them in West Berlin.

The West Berlin Finance Office put up the bulletin boards hoping that publicity will deter West Berliners from putting hard West German marks into the coffers of the East German Communists.

Intershops

After they put up the wall, the East Germans opened little stores called "intershops", in such places as the Friedrichstrasse elevated railway. They sell Western goods only to visitors at prices far below those in West Germany. A pack of American cigarettes — 6 marks ($1.50) in West Germany — sells for two marks (50 cents), for example.

The finance office said Heidemann bought 250 cigarettes at one of the intershops and tried to smuggle them into West Berlin. He was fined 100 marks ($25) and the cigarettes were confiscated.

"It is absolutely incomprehensible that there are West Berliners who conduct dirty business transactions with the Communists," a finance office official said.

Fill Coffers

"The intershops were established in order to fill the coffers of the bankrupt Soviet zone regime with Western currency."

While East Berliners can purchase only cigarettes of low quality, Westerners can buy the best Western brands at cut-rate prices in intershops.

Scotch whisky is unavailable in ordinary East Berlin stores. Intershops sell a pint for 7½ marks ($1.87). The price for a pint in West Berlin is about 10 marks ($2.50).

One Dead, 4 Injured In Crash

Auto Slid On Mud, Flipped Into Creek

Homer (UPI) — Mrs. Cora Fox, 72, Homer, was fatally injured about 1 p.m. Wednesday when the car in which she was riding slid on mud and overturned in a creek.

She was pinned beneath the wreckage and died at the scene, according to Dakota County Sheriff Harold Niebuhr.

Mrs. John Pearson, 29, Homer, and her daughters, Diana, 5, and Donna, 2, were listed in fairly good condition at St. Vincent Hospital, Sioux City, Iowa. Attendants were examining Mrs. Pearson for chest injuries. Both the girls were treated for head injuries.

A 3rd daughter, Debbie, 6, was treated for head injuries and admitted to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Sioux City.

Niebuhr and Deputy Sheriff Maynard Church said the car Mrs. Pearson was driving slid on a muddy section of a county road about 4 miles west of here.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Fox, a widow, were pending.

Her death raised the state traffic fatality toll to 43, compared to 34 one year ago.

Farm Income Hike Said Top Economy Aid

Grand Island (AP)— An increase in U.S. net farm income could give a more immediate and dramatic lift to the national economy than the proposed income tax reduction and revision program, a farm speaker said Wednesday.

Edwin Christianson, chairman of the executive committee of the National Farmers Union, said the income tax cut would be desirable and helpful, but that it may be slow in coming and have only a limited immediate effect. Christianson spoke at the 50th annual convention of the Nebraska Farmers Union being held Wednesday and Thursday.

The Farmers Union spokesman, who also is president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, cited recent figures quoted during the hearings on the economic report of the President indicating the use to which farmers put the estimated $2.5 billion in added purchasing power attributed to improved farm programs of the past two years.

Churchills Unable To Accept Clearwater's Hospitality Offer

Clearwater — Sir Winston Churchill and his wife have informed residents of Clearwater they regret they cannot take advantage of a home here.

Nebraska News

George Wrenholt, president of the Clearwater Chamber of Commerce, said he had received a reply to Clearwater's proclamation making Sir Winston a citizen of the town and notification that the town had set aside a house for him.

Anthony Montague Browne, secretary to the English statesman, wrote in a letter:

"Sir Winston Churchill has asked me to thank you very much for your letter.

"It gave him great pleasure, and the good wishes of the people of your town mean much to him.

"Sir Winston was interested by your suggestion that he should 'restate the principles by which free societies may survive.'

"He regrets that he cannot do as you ask, as he has now completely retired from his literary activities.

"I think that those who read his works and speeches will find that he has expressed his views on many occasions and in many different ways on the principles of democracy.

"Finally, Sir Winston and Lady Churchill ask me to thank you for your kind offer of a residence in Clearwater.

"They regret that they cannot foresee an opportunity of taking advantage of it, but nevertheless your sentiments are most agreeable to them, and they warmly reciprocate them."

Mr. Wrenholt said he also received a letter from Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., stating that he had asked the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which Sen. Hruska is a member, to take early action on the resolution granting U.S. citizenship to Sir Winston.

Clearwater's proclamation followed the Nebraska Legislature's resolution making Sir Winston an honorary citizen of the state, clearing the way for the resolution pending in Congress.

Klaver Proudly Displays Note From Winston

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha Wednesday proudly displayed a letter he received from Sir Winston Churchill several days ago.

Klaver introduced the resolution which led to the granting of full Nebraska citizenship to Sir Winston.

In the letter Churchill said: "I am indeed obliged to you for your letter of Feb. 14. I am deeply sensible of the honour that your state has paid me, and I thank you personally for the part you have played.

"I await a formal notification of the passing of the resolution by the Legislature of Nebraska and I presume that my acknowledgement should be officially addressed to the clerk of the Legislature.

"With good wishes, I remain, very sincerely Winston Churchill."

Wiles Is Named Head Of 4 TRW Operating Units

Ogallala (AP) — Q. T. Wiles, former Ogallalan, has been named head of 4 operating units of Thompson Rams Wooldridge Electronics in Los Angeles, Calif.

Wiles

Announcement was made locally by W. S. Vance, manager of TRW's Good-All Electronic operations in Ogallala.

A native Nebraskan, Wiles served as president and principal owner of Good-All following the death of the firm's founder, R. A. Goodall. Wiles joined TRW's offices in California two years ago.

Wiles is a native of Weeping Water, Nebr., and received his bachelor's and master's degree at the University of Nebraska. During the 1940's before joining Good-All in 1951, he did pioneer research in plastics formulations for Shell Development Co.

State Dairymen's Annual Meet Set Here Next Week

The annual meeting of the Nebraska State Dairymen's Association, first organized in 1885, will be held March 5 on the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus.

C. W. Nibler, NU Extension dairyman and association secretary, says the meeting will include presentation of awards, slides on dairy management practices and discussions on forage testing and the economic aspects of mechanical feeding.

The business meeting begins at 10 a.m. March 5 in the auditorium of the Biochemistry and Nutrition Building on the Ag College campus.

An awards dinner will be held at the NU Center for Continuing Education. Dr. A. C. Breckenridge, vice chancellor of the university, will welcome the dairymen.

R. E. Burleson, Extension dairy scientist, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., will speak on the "Status of Forage Testing Programs." Another guest speaker, Roy N. Van Arsdall, USDA agricultural economist stationed at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill., will discuss "Economic Aspects of Mechanical Feeding on Dairy Farms."

Sunday Closing Law Is Opposed

Denver (AP)—The central union conference of Seventh Day Adventists meeting here has expressed unequivocal opposition to a Sunday closing law of any type.

The resolution did not mention Colorado, but it was adopted shortly after introduction of a Sunday closing law in the Colorado House of Representatives.

Approximately 60 delegates and national leaders of the Adventist Church were attending the Denver meeting Wednesday.

Martin Rejects Michigan Offer To Debate Hoffa

Washington (AP) — Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., has rejected an invitation from Michigan's Committee For An Open Labor Forum to debate Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Martin, a member of the House Labor Committee, said in a letter to Stan Arnold, committee chairman that "I wish to advise that I see no justification for appearing with Mr. Hoffa in a debate on anti-monopoly legislation in the field of labor."

Arnold, in an earlier letter to Martin, said the debate was planned for March 10 in Detroit and that Hoffa already had accepted an invitation.

Arnold's letter said Hoffa had issued the debate challenge during a speech before the Michigan State Building Trades Council in Lansing on Jan. 29. Martin turned down the debate at that time.

In his letter to Arnold, Martin added:

"It is well known that Mr. Hoffa is blindly in opposition to any regulations over the labor movement and, in view of this type of attitude, I can see no point in entering into a debate with him. Consequently, I am unable to accept your invitation."

Martin is sponsor of a bill which would eliminate collective bargaining on an industry-wide scale, a proposal which has been criticized by Hoffa.

Citizenship For Churchill Gets House Group OK

Washington (UPI)—A House subcommittee Wednesday approved a proposal which would authorize President Kennedy to issue a proclamation declaring Winston Churchill "an honorary citizen of the United State of America."

If passed by Congress, it would be the first time a foreign citizen has ever been so honored.

The Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration and Nationality unanimously agreed that its chairman, Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., should introduce "an appropriately-worded bill" to carry out the move.

The decision honoring Britain's wartime leader was bipartisan. A similar bill also has been introduced in the Senate.

Msgr. Walsh's Rites Saturday; True Voice Editor

Omaha (AP) — Funeral services will be held in St. Mary Magdalene Church Saturday morning for the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edmond C. Walsh, editor of the True Voice and pastor of St. Mary Magdalene Parish.

The True Voice is Omaha's official Catholic newspaper.

Msgr. Walsh had served as assistant to Father Edward Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, and later was assistant director.

He became editor of the True Voice in 1958, and pastor of St. Mary Magdalene's in downtown Omaha in 1961.

A wartime Navy chaplain, he rose to the rank of lieutenant commander and was awarded the silver star for gallantry in action.

Msgr. Walsh died Wednesday afternoon after a lengthy illness. Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Mary Walsh, and two brothers, Raymond and Robert, all of Omaha.

York Democrats Hold First Caucus In Over 25 Years

Lincoln Star Special

York —For the first time in more than 25 years, the Democrats in York came out of hiding and held a city caucus.

They nominated two candidates for council seats: John Lindell to oppose Loran Hogan (Republican incumbent) in Ward 1, and S. J. Norton to oppose Arnold Refshauge (Republican incumbent) in Ward 4.

Norton is a former York mayor, elected about 16 years ago as a petition candidate.

The Democrats also endorsed 3 Republican incumbent city officials. They are Mayor O. N. Miller, City Clerk Edwin Robert and Raymond Haggard, police magistrate.

The Republicans nominated Warren Clark, incumbent, Ward 2 councilman, and Loren Pieper, incumbent, Ward 3.

Low Bids Listed On Library Work

Omaha (UPI)—The University of Omaha announced it had received low bids totaling $426,439 for construction of wings at either end of the Eppley Library.

The board of regents must still approve the bids before contracts are awarded.

The construction project, to be completed by next December, will be financed with a $290,000 grant from the Eppley Foundation of Omaha and matching funds from the university.

The two 48-by-112 foot wings will be two stories high. Each will accommodate 750 students.

The apparent low bid for the general contract was $346,305 submitted by Foster-Smetna Co. of Omaha. Low bidder for the mechanical contract was the J. J. Hanighen Co. on a bid of $86,749. Wallin Electric Co. of Omaha submitted the low electrical bid, $29,385.

Annexation Of Northwest Area Will Be Urged

Omaha (AP) — The Omaha Planning Board will recommend next month annexation of 1,541 acres at the northwest edge of Omaha with a population of about 6,800 persons.

A public hearing by the planning board has been tentatively scheduled for March 20.

The area is known as the Keystone and Benson Gardens area. It is an irregular area lying generally between 72nd street on the east, Blondo Street on the south, 90th street on the west and Fort Street on the north.

Valuation of property in the tract is $25,279,068 and the taxable valuation is $8,847,674.

Answer Still Sought

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Many are the questions being raised these days in regard to Cuba but few of them are getting to the real essence of things in South America and other parts of the world. Judging from attacks against the administration, one might believe that the essential question in Cuba was either a military one or one of government secrecy. While both of these may have some point, neither of them is of top priority at this time.

Dangers Of Subversion

The one thing this nation still has not come effectively to grips with is the matter of communist subversion. Here is a threat that does not come within the traditional meaning of such documents as the Monroe Doctrine and such alliances as the Organization of American States. As some columnists have pointed out, the presence of large numbers of military personnel on the Cuban island is not the kind of threat to the United States or the rest of Latin America as it might appear. These troops are not there for the purpose of launching any open attack on another nation. To do so would be suicidal and would certainly invite World War III.

Even Castro would have sufficient sense to realize that a military attack at this time would be ridiculous. One purpose of the military buildup there is to make Castro secure within his own fortress —to protect him from the threat of revolution within his country. Another purpose is to protect against any limited invasion such as the abortive Bay of Pigs episode. Protection here would force the United States to openly declare a siege or war if it intended to topple Castro from the outside.

The wisdom of this protection is based on the belief that the U.S. will not risk a major invasion and its dangers of world war to get rid of Castro. Thus, the military buildup in Cuba is certainly a problem and no small one but it is not the kind of threat we commonly think of in such circumstances.

The matter of secrecy is an important one, too, but not so vital to our survival at the moment as is the matter of subversion. On the basis of the Kennedy record, it is probable that the Republicans have a good case against the Democrats on the subject of a bipartisan foreign policy. What the administration should be telling the American people relative to the Bay of Pigs invasion and other Cuban affairs is pretty speculative. Since we do not know what it is the administration is withholding on the subject, we can hardly judge the advisability of making it public. But the pattern under Kennedy definitely has not been good in this matter and it is hoped that he eventually comes to take a different attitude. A bipartisan foreign policy cannot be based on ignorance on the part of one party nor can public confidence be built in a vacuum.

The matter of informing the opposition party and the American people is one that can be worked out, however, and one that does not constitute an immediate threat to our way of life. The one thing left as a threat to us in South America is the infiltration of free nations by Red agents. We have seen in Laos that this is certainly just as effective a means of conquest as any military action and contains much less risk for the Kremlin. We have not completely lost Laos yet but such a loss appears to be a virtual certainty. The same pattern of subversion is being followed in other areas of Asia but with somewhat less success at the moment.

Throughout Africa the communists are diligently working to undermine established governments, particularly those that would steer their nation toward a democratic form of government. The tactic is one of deceit and invariably cloaked in a mantle of public approval and acceptance. It places this nation somewhat in the position of the loser regardless of which way it goes.

If we attempt to stop any popular uprising, we face the indignation of the local citizenry. If we do not stop such uprisings, they evolve shortly into a communist takeover and it is then too late for us to do anything short of invasion. But the issue is not one we can afford to ignore as an impossibility.

Statement Of Intent

It would seem advisable for this nation to develop a clear statement of intent in regard to communist subversion. If we had developed such a policy before the Castro rise to power, it could now be evoked against the dictator without the risk of armed conflict with Russia. If Russia had known in advance that we would intervene militarily in any communist-dominated nation of South America, the responsibility for initiating or checking World War III would have been on her shoulders. Without such a policy, we permit the Reds to establish themselves and their rights as they see them, which puts the responsibility of war or peace upon us.

This nation has drifted since the end of World War II with no answer to communist subversion. We have secondary answers with foreign aid, the Peace Corps, the United Nations, guerrilla warfare, advice and training, etc., but these things often need more time than communist subversion will allow.

"Who Said Anything About Driving Out Castro? We're Talking About Kennedy"

Mr. Getty, Poor Fellow

J. Paul Getty, an American expatriate residing in London, is the richest individual in the world, some say.

Never having met Mr. Getty, we can't estimate his fortune with any degree of reliability. He doesn't mix much with the masses. But he himself admits to being quite loaded.

The other day he warned people to beware of wealth. It is such a trying burden and an everlasting care. Were he not so dutiful about his heavy responsibilities he would enjoy the relaxed idleness of the small businessman—the little faceless fellow who only makes $280,000 a year.

Mr. Getty must have been away quite a while. He is out of touch. Either that or he must think that anyone who makes less than $280,000 a year cannot be regarded as a member of the human race. If that is so he did the cause of great wealth no good.

By contrast a good Lincoln matron set forth last Sunday with her calling list to solicit for the heart fund. She reflected pleasantly as she approached one of the houses that two nice little girls lived there. They frequently rang her door bell and took orders for Girl Scout cookies. They are well kept, polite little girls.

The man of the house came to the door. When he saw it was for the heart fund, he said, "That's a fine cause; I gave to it last year and I sure would like to do something again. But I can't.

"You see," he explained. "I was sick some last fall and I ran out of unemployment compensation. And I haven't had any work now since just after Christmas. Not even a relief check yet."

Now we just wonder if this man appreciates Mr. Getty's hardship.

No Idyllic Dream

National 4-H Club Week will be observed the week beginning March 2.

There will be few communities in Nebraska whose attention will not be called to that fact in some form or other. The 4-H youth program is one of the most heavily patronized.

In Nebraska last year there were 35,479 club members. There were 22,841 girls and 12,638 boys.

Put all those members in one place and you would have the third largest city in Nebraska. You would also have a community without a juvenile delinquency problem. But you would have a city of well kept homes, a wholesome government, enthusiasm, laughter, fine schools, full churches, thrifty looking livestock, abundant gardens, cooperative progress and pretty flower gardens.

Last year that community would have completed 71,163 constructive projects, ranging from agricultural engineering through health and home making. There would be 3,024 dairy calves and 13,199 head of livestock. There would be 1,243 forestry projects, 16,514 cooking programs, 13,603 items of home made clothing, 855 agronomy and conservation programs, 400 examples of canning and food preservation.

The leading citizens would be the county extension agents and their feminine counterpart, the homemaking directors.

This sounds idyllic. But it is a fact.

There could be a number of paragraphs in praise of such a fine organization. But on second thought the plain facts tell the better story.

An Unfortunate Loss

When Lincoln voted some time ago on urban renewal, one of the things that contributed to defeat of the measure was the fear of the federal government and the dislocation of families. And now we find in the establishment of a park along the Lincoln access to the Interstate that it is the federal government which has stood up for the protection of the average citizen.

It is the federal government which has refused Lincoln funds for the acquisition of land on which private homes are located. The refusal was based on the grounds that Lincoln has no program for relocating the displaced families. So what will happen? The city will pick up the entire tab on this land and the families will be displaced without any assistance or consideration at all.

If we had urban renewal, these families would have been guaranteed a place in substitution for that which they were forced to abandon, they would have been given moving expenses and the city would have obtained substantial federal assistance in purchase of the land. Urban renewal would have helped these people but because of ill advised fears and unfounded assertions, this help is denied.

And the assistance the city is now seeking on the parkway amounts to only 30 per cent federal aid whereas the program under urban renewal could have obtained up to 90 per cent federal aid. The defeat of urban renewal drastically reduced the possibility of such park developments and practically eliminated any possibility of general rehabilitation but it also complicated any such programs that are undertaken, substantially increased their cost and greatly multiplied the human problems involved. About the only freedom it preserved was hardship and this is one we could well do without.

Dilworth Named For Rail Study

WASHINGTON—A plan to revolutionize the railroads of the Atlantic seaboard into the fastest commuter service in the world is being considered so seriously that the White House called Richardson Dilworth, ex-mayor of Philadelphia, to Washington to ask him to undertake a careful study of the project.

The idea, which originated with freshman Sen. Claiborne Pell, (D-R.I.), is to cut the time of rail service between Boston and Washington to four hours instead of nine, with equally fast service within what he calls "megalopolis." This is the long thin line of cities extending down the Atlantic seaboard including Boston, Providence, New Haven, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington.

"When you get up in a small plane and look down, you can see that one city runs right into the next," explains Pell. "It's an area which contains 21 per cent of the nation's retail establishments, 30 per cent of our manufacturing, and collects 27 per cent of our taxes.

"And if something isn't done to save the railroads' passenger traffic, the service will be gone, and it will be too late to revive it."

Pell, a stem-winder from the tiniest state in the union, Rhode Island, points to the example set by the Japanese in their new rail line between Tokyo and Osaka. Trains connecting these two cities will travel the 309 miles in three hours, making nine stops. The Japanese will use heavy rails, welded together, with light equipment.

"The density of Japanese population is so heavy that it was necessary for them to build a complete new rail line, in addition to old lines," says the senator. "We can use the existing tracks of the Pennsylvania and New Haven. One rail line can carry as many passengers as 32 highway lanes.

"What the American people don't realize," he says, "is that if we keep on building highways at the present rate, the country will be nothing but a ribbon of highways. We haven't got the space. Los Angeles today has 50 per cent of its land taken up with highways and parks, and, even so, its throughways are crowded.

"Furthermore, in twenty years air traffic density will be so dangerous over New York, Philadelphia, and Washington that commuter air traffic between these short-hop cities will be banned.

"However, if we don't act now to save the passenger services of the railroads, they will become atrophied from non-use. We have to move now."

President Kennedy agrees, has put $1,000,000 in the budget for rail study and asked Dilworth, who put new life into Philadelphia commuter traffic, to head up the study group. Dilworth, in debt from an expensive campaign for governor of Pennsylvania, was hesitant.

Drip-Drying A Burden Instead Of A Blessing

New York — One of the most insidious inventions of this age of alleged time-saving conveniences is the drip-drip-drip-drip-drip-dry garment.

It is a dam-dam-dam-dam-dampening experience.

The woman (or, even more pitifully) the man who owns drip-dry shirts and other work-creating atrocities, has paid a premium price—over old-fashioned cotton—for the privilege of:

1) Doing the laundry nightly, instead of weekly;

2) Performing this act either in a lavatory basin which is too petite and therefore spills over like old faithful, or in a bathtub at the cost of a sacroiliac spasm:

3) Dousing the floor with drip-drips, and

4) Otherwise rendering the family bathroom useless for duty except as an interesting example of how it feels to visit a tropical rain forest.

The enormity of this encroachment on our leisure time cannot be appreciated until we look back, fondly, upon the days when the only "work-saver convenience" was an old-fashioned washing machine. Ah, those were the days. On Mondays (only Mondays) we did all the washing and ironing—or hired a laundress to do it for us—and fell asleep, exhausted, at the end of a tough session.

☆ ☆ ☆

Now we don't have one tough day.

Now every day is a monster.

You pay good money for drip-dry clothes, and you've got to drip-dry them.

And it's not easy. First you have to work like a washing-machine over a hot basin to get them clean, then deftly you've got to transfer a soaking wet garment to a hanger while it showers like an April storm on the floor, after which you must transfer it to a towel bar or shower head, making the natural function of a bathtub impossible. At the conclusion, a wet hen has nothing on you.

I would go back to wearing iron-dry fabrics immediately — to devoting one whole day, rather than every evening, to the laundry — if I could. The trouble is you can't find many chic, simple, iron-only fabrics in the stores anymore.

There is a relatively new word to add to our plentiful jargon describing America's neuroses. It is "urbophrenia."

This malady is translated, roughly, as "city jitters."

Urbophrenia was described, for the American Association for the Advancement of Science, as "a peculiar greenhouse existence" —an artificial climate caused by too much life indoors. It is the "Wearisome monotony of an immured existence within the confines of the residence and place of employment."

This type of existence, punctuated only by brief vacations, brings on physical, psychological and social disorders, according to scientists.

Just another phase of our drip-dry culture. Now if we could all get out in the yard and hang up the wash . . .

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have varicose veins and have worn elastic stockings for years. Is there anything else I can do? I am 77, and have a little garden and flowers that I love to spade. I had phlebitis in my right leg. —Mrs.E.E."

Molner

The elastic stockings unquestionably help; she may find even more support in the use of elastic bandages wrapped from ankle to knee or above.

The veins have become "varicose" by swelling from the pressure within them, so these elastic supports are logical for counteracting this condition.

All sorts of salves and home remedies have been tried by thousands of patients without relief. There is no reason to expect any, so don't waste time on things that can't help.

In a great many cases the patient rightly comes around to having the overswollen veins obliterated by injections, which is a satisfactory method for some; or having the veins ligated (or tied) which is an equivalent method; or having them removed surgically, called "stripping." (The vein is removed endwise, so only a small incision is required.)

Whether, at 77, she should have one of these latter procedures could be decided only by the doctor caring for her.

However, she can still help herself by understanding the cause of varicose veins — pressure inside veins which are not strongly supported by the flesh.

She should not stand for long periods; when on her feet, walking and moving about promotes circulation and is helpful.

Sitting in one position for long periods is harmful — it cramps the veins, retarding circulation. Hence, move from time to time.

She should continue working in her garden. Not too long at a time, of course, but moderate exercise is good.

When sitting, it will be most helpful for her to prop her feet on a chair or footstool — indeed, the inelegant habit of putting one's feet on the desk is a very useful one in relieving pressure on varicose veins, since the blood then runs down through the veins, instead of requiring the pressure to force it up.

The last word of caution: Avoid bumping the legs (especially the distended vein or veins) against chairs, furniture, etc. This further damages the blood vessels, and besides, small wounds or bruises heal more slowly because of the impaired circulation.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is being done towards helping or curing aplastic anemis, the 'radiation sickness.' My daughter died of it. —Mrs. W. J."

The disease existed long before we had either atomic radiation or X-rays, so it isn't "The radiation sickness," even though radiation is now one cause. Others are poisoning from chemicals such as benzene, arsenic, and certain drugs.

Treatment depends primarily on (a) removing the cause; (b) transfusions. But it's a serious, difficult disease.

Questions occasionally arrive in streaks, with a lot of people suddenly asking about the same thing. This has happened on heel spurs. Here's a typical inquiry:

"I suffer from a spur on my heel and nothing I can do seems to help it. What causes this and what can I do?—M. P."

A "spur" is a calcification of a tendon in the heel. As you know, calcification is part of the natural process of healing a wound, injury or inflamed area. Calcium is a necessary ingredient of "scar tissue" of all kinds.

Unfortunately sometimes the lumpy scar area may be in a place where it is painful. It is, in principle, something like a corn or callus. It forms to protect us; it can be a nuisance, though.

Principle causes of heel spurs are excessive pressure, injury from a blow, or infection in the area, of which bursitis is an example. The tendon is damaged and then heals.

Some spurs cause no discomfort, any more than scars elsewhere. They show up when the foot is X-rayed. If they don't bother you, forget them.

If the calcification is so located that it is painful when you walk, that's time enough to take action.

Fortunately, in most cases cushioning of the heel is effective. This must be designed to support your weight and yet not let the pressure force the hardened, calcified area against sensitive tissues.

For that reason I suggest that the best and quickest, and perhaps even the least expensive way, is to consult a specialist in foot ailments to get cushioning that will really do the job. X-ray showing the calcified spur will of course help him solve the problem.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Some years ago I had a fenestration in one ear, and now think an operation on the other would help, but don't know of any doctor doing the newer surgery.—A. G."

Results of these operations continue to get better and better. In your case, you live near a very good medical center. Just inquire there. People living elsewhere as a rule need only ask their regular doctors for referral, either directly to an ear surgeon or to an ear-nose-throat specialist who may not do such surgery himself but knows who is well qualified for it.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Preserving Rights

Newark, N.J.

There was a recent letter from B. F. Sandburg of Grand Island, referring to a letter of mine on the folly of the 11 southern states for warring with the powerful 22 northern states.

I have a background of standing for federal claims as per the Constitution. I have never condoned the so-called "states righters" who shot at the Stars and Stripes, Generals Jackson and Lee. I could not condone secession of states from the Union and will make no peace with the governors who flout federal jurisdiction in lawful matters.

I did not reiterate my views on the relative effectiveness of sheer power or plain justice. The North won because of its precious combination of a just cause and, luckily, sheer power.

Yes, let us guard our civil gains. Let us give the vote to all and squash the prerogative of state authorities to deny the vote to those who travel from state to state.

Sunday Closing

Plattsmouth, Neb.

We'd like to commend Hinky Dinky Stores, together with other stores, for their stand in remaining closed on Sundays. As former residents of Lincoln and as a former employe of Hinky Dinky, we well appreciate what this one day of rest means to store employes and their families.

We hope these stores will have the courage and the moral and spiritual fortitude to continue their present policy.

Trade Schools

Lincoln, Neb.

Your editorial, "The Vocational Trade School," of February 25 is most interesting. You advise that there are seven trade or vocational schools in Nebraska that are fully accredited; that there are eight other private vocational schools that are fully bonded and licensed. In 1962 these schools graduated more than 2,000 students, practically all of whom found immediate placement in business and industry.

But toward the end of 1962, The Star published an article headlined, "No School, No Jobs for 7,000 Nebraska Youths." On January 14, 1963, The Star published a report of the Grand Island Chamber of Commerce headlined, "1,000 Want To Go To Tech, But They Can't." This report says, "The state industrial development program hinges directly on its ability to provide skilled workers, especially in electronics and related technical industries . . . But there is no use to apply only to be put on a long waiting list. Milford has a waiting list practically half the size of its student body."

Will you please advise where the above mentioned 15 vocational schools are located? Why can they not take in the 1,000 students who want technical training? In your editorial of February 25, you say, "It might be noted . . . that these private schools could handle at least another third as many students as they are handling today."

Many of The Star's readers have young men in their families who are vitally concerned with the problems of technical training. Can you help us figure out these conflicting reports?

WINNIFRED LEWIS

Editor's Note: The editorial referred to was written specifically to point out, among other things, the conflicting claims that exist in this area of vocational trade schools. We disagree with the proposal that industrial development hinges on ability to provide skilled workers since this state already exports a great many of these workers. As to the location of the 13 private schools, nine are located in Omaha, two in Lincoln, one in Grand Island and one in North Platte, both of the latter and the two in Lincoln being secretarial and accounting schools. Two of the Omaha schools are secretarial and accounting. The private schools could take the 1,000 students who want vocational training if those students wanted to go to Omaha for their training in anything other than secretarial and accounting work.

Helping Hand

Lincoln, Neb.

I wish to express my thanks to the group of boys who offered my son help in fixing a flat tire in the Havelock area on Saturday evening, February 23. Such kindness made quite an impression and I am sure when he sees someone in trouble, he'll remember these boys and repay them by offering his help to the one in need.

It is very gratifying to know when he or others are on the road that there are groups like the Chevrons to give a helping hand. This gesture showed a characteristic that is lacking in many adults today.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Tropical Islands' Scenery Can Be Too Beautiful

By ROBERT PETERSON

I love visiting exotic, tropical islands such as Haiti, Hawaii, and Jamaica. Their natural beauty is so overpowering that it's almost necessary to hold back tears on arrival as one gazes at the lush vegetation and azure waters and feels the balmy air caressing one's cheeks.

The spell lasts all of the first day, and the second. And sometimes the third and fourth. But then something happens, and I find myself wanting to move on. It's not that the beauty diminishes. It's simply that the beauty is beyond my comprehension and that I cannot assimilate more.

I have often wondered about this emotion and how to express it when I came upon a recent article about Tahiti written by Eugene Burdick who sums it up admirably: "This lovely island can be corrosive to a Westerner, for a place can be too beautiful. The sea, the reef, the flowers, the clouds, the sunset are magnificent when viewed the first time. A bit later they are still beautiful, but you have a growing sense of surfeit. After awhile . . . it can become almost nauseating. It is comparable to eating too much of an exquisite but very rich meal . . . you learn to look away from its splendors, to enjoy them sparingly."

Burdick goes on to say that the most difficult lesson for the Westerner to learn is that paradise is not the equivalent of relaxation. He says he has actually seen Americans in Tahiti lose their reason as they attempt to abandon all work and slip into what they conceive the South Sea life to be. But he claims they never succeed, saying, "We have acquired a very high work metabolism, and are uncomfortable with nothing to do but observe beauty."

There would be fewer problems among older people if we all learned that beauty is not sufficient to sustain us in retirement. The most elegant retirement home in the most exotic of earthly paradises will ultimately seem boring and burdensome if we lack interests and activities to stimulate our minds and sense of purpose.

A retired businessman in Iowa has written me commenting on the human tendency to spend money on the treatment of disease, rather than on its prevention.

He says that he recently recommended to the State Legislature that $12,000 a year be appropriated to hire a trained and enthusiastic geriatric worker to develop senior citizen programs throughout the state as a means of kindling purpose and a sense of being and worth among the elder citizens—who constitute better than 10% of the state's population.

"But," he says, "they turned down the proposal and instead allocated $3,000,000 for a new state mental institution designed to care for the mentally disturbed and depressed—many of whom are senior citizens who got that way through inactivity."

He concludes saying, "We spend millions of dollars providing care for those who fall off the cliff, but not one dollar to build a fence to keep them from falling."

Says Jerry Atrick, "A miser isn't much to live with, but he makes a wonderful ancestor."

If you would like a booklet "Retiring to the Virgin Islands" write to this column c/o The Lincoln Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Bill Regulating Funds Of Education Groups Advanced

The Legislature Wednesday gave first round approval to LB392, which provides that public educational organizations incorporated as nonprofit groups without capital stock, must register annually with the secretary of state an audit of their funds.

A bill to reduce the amount of weed seed that could be tolerated in seed offered for sale got bogged down in debate over an amendment submitted by Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper.

The vote on the amendment deadlocked at 12-12, but Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, presiding officer in the Unicameral, refused to break the tie. He said the bill would be held until Thursday "so that you will know what you are voting on."

When there was some doubt expressed about Burney's action, he reminded the senators he does not have to resolve tie votes. Had he chosen not to act, he said, Rasmussen's amendment would have failed. Then he added: "But I thought it would be the fair thing to wait until tomorrow when we will all know more about the bill."

Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte then moved to lay the measure over for one day and that ended the discussion.

'Picket Protection' For Farms Moves

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

A bill designed to "extend protection against picketing and other forms of coercion to farming and ranching enterprises" was advanced to the floor of the Legislature Wednesday by a 5-1 vote of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

Sen. T. C. Reeves of Central City, principal introducer of LB452 which is cosponsored by 9 other senators, said the measure is necessary to "prevent intimidation" of farmers and ranchers and protect their "access to and from the market place."

Frequent reference was made during testimony to the National Farmers Organization's (NFO) livestock holding action last year.

Farming 'Overlooked'

Earl Luff of Lincoln, representing the State Chambers of Commerce and Associated Industries of Nebraska, said that when the original right-to-work law was written, agriculture was overlooked.

"No one dreamed the problems which have faced the agricultural industry in recent months would ever come about," Luff said.

"Conditions are created that breed gangster-like violence endangering lives and property. The force of a clear and positive law is needed to discourage those who would indulge in such activity.

"This is not an employer-employe relationship," Luff continued. "We're talking about outlawing a situation where entirely unrelated persons attempt to force, through coercion and intimidation, a defenseless farmer to accept their philosophy and do their bidding."

Reeves said the bill would not eliminate such holding actions as practiced by the NFO, but would control them.

Charles Marshall, head of the Nebraska Farm Bureau, said his organization is "against violence that has accompanied holding actions."

State Supporters

Included among those supporting the measure were representatives of the Union Stock Yards Co. of Omaha, Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association and the Nebraska State Grange.

L. K. Emry of Lincoln, representing the Railroad Shopcrafts of Nebraska; Malcolm farmer Joseph Franson, and two committee members, Sens. Terry Carpetner of Scottsbluff and Edward Danner of Omaha, testified in opposition to the bill.

Carpenter expressed the opinion that the bill would "only accelerate what you are attempting to control. Farmers are just like everyone else, only more so. They're dissatisfied, and no fence as this legislation will hold them in."

Picket Tightening

Opponents of the bill also objected to a provision of the bill which further tightens the picketing laws of a general nature.

In other action, the committee heard and advanced unanimously LB401, introduced by Sens. Dale Payne of Papillion and Eugene Mahoney of Omaha, which extends protection of child labor laws for 14-to-16-year-olds working in restaurants and drive-ins.

Another measure heard, LB354, introduced by Sens. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, George Gerdes of Alliance and Don Thompson of McCook, relating to railroad whistle boards, mile post markers and restrictive signals, was held for further consideration.

'GO TO HELL' PRICE IS $25

Telling City Prosecutor Fred Swihart to "Go to hell" cost a Lincoln man $25 Wednesday.

Appearing in Municipal Court on a drunk complaint, the man entered a "not guilty" plea.

Swihart asked him if he was pleading "not guilty" to obtain a trial, or to be released on bond which would give him time to raise the money to pay the usual $10 fine for drunkeness.

Looking Swihart directly in the eye, the man replied: "Go to hell."

Swihart asked Judge John Jacobson's permission to add a second charge.

"The fine on the second charge of contempt of court is $25," the judge replied.

NLRB Examiner Rules Against Construction Firm

A National Labor Relations Board examiner Wednesday recommended the Olson Construction Company cease and desist discrimination against International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Ironworkers employes.

In a 1962 case involving Olson and the Local 21, AFL-CIO, affiliate, Examiner Morton Friedman found that the construction company discouraged membership in the union by preventing 3 union men from pursuing employment as ironworkers during the construction of the Nelle Cochrane Woods Memorial Building on the University of Nebraska campus.

Olson, Friedman said, needlessly detained union-affiliate workers sent by the Hope Windows, Inc., Jamestown, N.Y., in the installation of window sashes in the construction of the classroom.

Olson officials and attorneys were not available for comment Wednesday.

Friedman's recommendations, pending adoption by the NLRB, stipulate that Olson:

—cease and desist from discouraging membership in any labor organization of its employes.
—refrain from interfering with, restraining or coercing employes in the exercise of their rights under the National Labor Relations Act.
—notify Hope Winds, Inc., that it does not object to the assignment of labor-affiliate employes to any of its projects.
—post at its plant and projects copies of the agreement to comply with the previous recommendation.
—make restitution to Eugene Fraley, Robert Hadley and Herbert Blum for any loss of earnings suffered during the period of questioned employment as union workers.
—make available to the NLRB all records necessary to determine back pay.

Beach Zoning Okayed

Residential zoning for proposed Capitol Beach Manor residential subdivision bordering a 326-acre lake was approved Wednesday by the City-County Planning Commission.

However, action on a preliminary plat of the 449-lot lakeside housing addition on the west edge of Lincoln was deferred two weeks for lack of a required report by the city engineer.

The commission requested the engineer's report be available by its March 13 meeting.

S. E. Copple, president of Capitol Beach Inc., the firm developing the residential addition, said earlier in a news conference that many homesites will have private beaches and boat docks.

About 10 miles of streets and roads are proposed for construction. One will encircle the fresh-water lake with a 4.3 mile shoreline, he said.

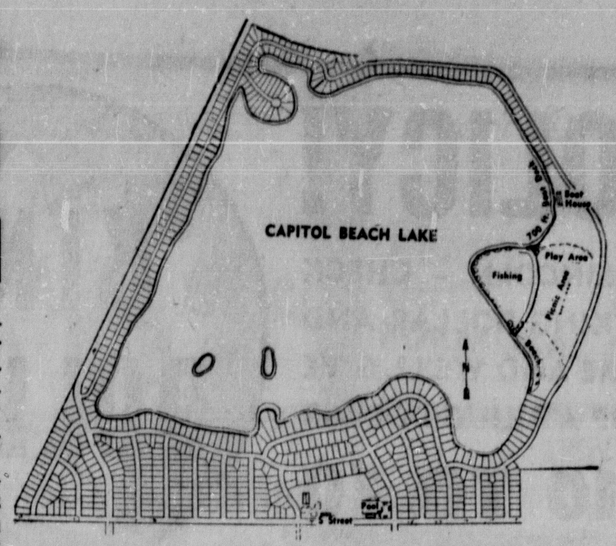

Space is available for development of another 300 homes around the lake at a later date, he said.

The housing development will cover an area formerly included in the Capitol Beach Amusement Park. Only the salt-water swimming pool and pavilion bulding are being retained.

Copple said Capitol Beach Manor residents will enjoy year-round recreation on the lake suitable for motor and sailboating, water skiing, ice skating and ice boating.

The area was famed as a resort even before the turn of the century, being known as Burlington Beach. A steamboat gave excursion rides on the lake and President William McKinley made a campaign speech at the site in 1896.

Capitol Beach Manor developers predict that $9 million worth of new home construction will be attracted to the unique lakeside residential development.

Campgrounds Zoning Held For More Study

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday held the proposed text of a zoning code amendment for camping areas for revision and further consideration at its March 13 meeting.

Basically, the code would allow camp grounds for tents and trailers to be established in specified areas on a special permit with City Council approval.

It would establish minimum space requirements (1,000 square feet for each tent or trailer site), setbacks, and require Health Department approval of water and sewage disposal facilities.

However, revision of several provisions was suggested:

—Increase the 10% limit on the number of trailer sites in the campgrounds to a higher figure.

—Increase the two-week limit on occupancy of a tent or trailer site.

—Permit campgrounds in any zoning district with special permit approval rather than limit locations to rural and public use, highway-service and light industrial districts.

—Possible restricting of campground areas to "camping trailers" by definition as distinguished from "mobile homes or house trailers."

The commission was advised that Tom and Gene Clare will propose a 14-acre campgrounds area near 25th and Cornhusker Hwy. under the suggested code change.

Auto Salvage

In other action, the commission approved a special permit to Henry Wiseman to operate an auto salvage yard at 7238 Thayer.

The property is zoned for heavy industry, but a special permit is required for the proposed use.

The commission suggested the city law department take appropriate action against an auto wrecking yard near 70th and Burt in line with the building inspector's report of code violations by the operator.

The commission also:

—approved "local business" zoning for the northeast corner of 31st and O, requested by August Sinner and proposed as a site for a dental clinic.

—deferred for further study the proposed zoning code text for "G-1 planned commercial districts," permitting the same uses as "G local business" but requiring greater front, side and rear yard setbacks under certain conditions and imposing sign restrictions.

—approved by committee action a special permit to Midwest Life Insurance Co. to construct a parking lot at 1626 J, subject to the City Council's determination of an appropriate parking layout.

—approved preliminary plat of Lynn Subdivision, a 12-lot replat on south side of Myrtle approximately 300 feet west of 56th, subject to staff recommendations.

—approved preliminary plat of Sunset Acres First Addition, an 11-lot addition near 44th and Colfax, subject to staff recommendations.

—denied "D multiple dwelling" zoning for 3 partial lots near 46th and Starr, requested by John T. Dunbar.

Man Fined $180 In Assault Case

A 20-year-old Lincoln man was fined $180 in Lancaster County Court Wednesday on assault and battery charges filed in connection with an alleged rape early Sunday.

An 18-year-old married Lincoln woman reported to police that she had been attacked and raped twice by the man after she went to his apartment for a cup of tea with him.

The assault and battery charges were filed after both parties were given lie detector tests.

Chamber Wants Ag Goods On EEC Par With Industry

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce will join other Nebraska chambers urging trade negotiations between the United States and the European Common Market to give agricultural products equal weight with industrial goods.

Action followed warnings by University of Nebraska Agricultural Economist Everett Peterson that European Economic Community protectionism, or preferential treatment for other feed grain nations, could pose a serious problem for American agriculture, despite the long-range benefits promised by the integrated European market.

He noted that U.S. wheat shipments to Europe thus far in 1963 trail a year ago by half.

Better quality control of U.S. bread grain will be required to meet the competitive standards of Canadian wheat. But the U.S. position for maintaining an adequate share of a European market that will soon embrace 250 million consumers was described as strong, if it is asserted.

"Europe needs our markets. We are more productive, and high protectionism for the EEC's domestic farm products can swing European consumers to the side of lower-cost American products," Peterson said.

In an overall endorsement of the EEC, Peterson said its success promised a stable and progressive Europe and a strengthened bastion for peace.

Its improvement of general European prosperity would both expand consumptive demand and provide means for lightening the American aid burden for underdeveloped regions.

In other action, chamber directors:

— Endorsed LB574 asking legislative approval for earmarking funds from existing funds to form a revolving fund for acquiring highway right of way.

— Opposed LB659 which asks the Legislature to return control of the Lincoln Airport Authority to the city.

— Endorsed reapportionment measure LB629 which would increase legislative membership from 43 to 49.

— Endorsed LB644 which would permit an additional levy up to one-tenth of a mill to the present one mill authorization and to designate its use by the Airport Authority for promotion of air service and representing the city at hearings of the Civil Aeronautics board.

—Heard a report by Vice President Myron Wiel predicting 1963 budget support to the extent of $16,500 for chamber activities, a figure $23,000 greater than 1962, but $25,000 short of the desired goal.

New Privileges For Meter Maids OK'd

A bill authorizing city transit systems to permit uniform meter checkers to ride free of charge or at reduced fares was passed by the State Legislature Wednesday and sent to Gov. Frank Morrison for approval.

The measure, LB187, extends to the so-called "meter maid" the privilege now accorded other policemen and firemen.

Introduced by Omaha Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney, William R. Skarda Jr., and George Syas, and Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, the bill was approved 42-0 on final reading.

Other bills passed Wednesday (E-emergency clause):

LB250 (Warner, Orme, Stromer) — Providing for registration of Lincoln city bonds in the finance department of the city and the state auditor's office. (E). (42-0).

LB176 (E. Rasmussen, R. Rasmussen) — Providing that notice of annual township meeting shall be given by publication rather than by posting. (41-1).

LB175 (E. Rasmussen, R. Rasmussen) —Eliminating requirement that county warrants carry information on the status of funds involved, levy and appropriation. (40-0).

LB201 (Brandt) — Permitting banks to handle accounts of minors notwithstanding they may be too young to enter into contractual relationships. (E). (42-0).

LB147 (Judiciary Committee) — Harmonizing provisions of law relating to decedents' estates. (42-0).

LB110 (Carpenter) — Providing that firemen entering service in first class cities after the effective date of the law shall need to be at least 55 years old and have 21 years service before going on LB115 (Skarda, Mahoney) — Authorizthe retirement list. (43-0).

LB115 (Skarda, Mahoney) — Authorizing Lincoln to include airport authority officers and employes under any city social security system, pension or retirement plan. (43-0).

Solons Approve Introduction Of New Measure

The Legislature Wednesday approved introduction of the 757th bill of the current session by the Revenue Committee.

The measure pertains to cemetery districts. It provides a method of transferring funds to newly organized districts.

This method of transfer was omitted from the cemetery district bill enacted into law two years ago.

Mapes And Wife Join Peace Corps

Norfolk — William Mapes of Encino, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew D. Mapes of Norfolk, has been granted a leave of absence by the City Health Department in Los Angeles to serve two years with the Peace Corps.

Mapes, a graduate of the University of New Mexico, will receive Peace Corps training at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Ill. He will be assigned to Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, where he will be an instructor in engineering and surveying at the Technical Institute.

His wife will accompany him and will have a Peace Corps assignment in the same town as an elementary school teacher.

Senators Urge Commission To Implement Bill

A resolution was submitted to the Legislature Wednesday asking that the State Building Commission be urged to implement LB90.

The bill directed the State Building Commission to place a suitable plaque in the Capitol commemorating the persons on the Capitol Commission at the time the Capitol was erected.

The resolution, introduced by Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln, said members of the Capitol Mural Commission are particularly qualified for designing and preparing the the plaques and their services should be utilized.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

As any fool knows, the all-digit dialing system has now made long distance Love too horrible to fight.

In order to speak to my chick and child, only 250 miles away, I must put my finger in the twirling dial 8 times. Correctly! If it is not correctly dialed, I can get anything.

A flicker of indecision on that Area Code number—three times around the dial and my wind is gone—you find yourself talking with a cleaning shop in South Dakota.

So far as I know, there is not one blessed thing you can do about this.

☆ ☆ ☆

The telephone started out with Alexander Graham Bell speaking to the next room. Through the first telephone.

He said historically: "Come here, Mr. Watson, I want you."

Watson then stuck his head in the door, having heard the summons.

No record was made of what Watson said. There was only one instrument and Watson was on the receiving end. He had no mouthpiece.

Still, when he stuck his head through the door, what DID he say?

☆ ☆ ☆

My phone bill is frightful. (My oldest daughter phones me collect, that is why.)

I am phoned collect only in emergencies.

Every day we have an emergency.

Here is a survey I happen to have handy on phones:

America has 40 phones for every 100 people. This is more than any county in the world and befits a mink coat, tail fin nation with status. I myself have a phone. With two extensions!

When my daughter is home, I cannot ever use the phone. Every time she passes a phone—any extension—she picks it up and dials somebody.

"Get off the phone!"

"But it's an EMERGENCY!"

Life is short but phone conversations are long. It's an art. Usually love, too.

☆ ☆ ☆

Who are the world's greatest lovers? The French. (This is nonsense. But it has been sawed off on the international public so long even the French believe it.)

Anyway, the phones around my scatter are usually filled with news of love.

"He DID? No! What did you do then?"

Therefore, we should study the ever-loving phones of la belle France.

France — the number of phones in France — does not even come in the Top Ten!

Finland — what do you talk about in Finland? — has more phones per 100 persons than France.

This shows conclusively that Love and Emergencies do not depend on picking up any phone in the house and running up the phone bill.

"So, get off that phone!"

☆ ☆ ☆

Many people are against all-digit dialing. I mean, knocking out such colorful prefixes as "YUkon."

I am carrying this a step further. I am coming out against phones. Especially against phone bills. Digit dialing has become my downfall. It is so easy. Dial the area code and voila! We dialed for the town a mile away. We got New York.

Isn't that hilarious? Never mind. Dial again.

"Will you PLEASE get off the phone!"

Well, now we have Telstar. And in no time at all, you will be able to bounce a dial number off this satellite and A. T. and T. can split the stick again.

Digit dialing and the elimination of the long distance operator is the most profitable thing that has happened to phones since Watson loaned Alexander Graham Bell coffee money.

Will Love find its righteous way? Ah, yes. Over many a wrong, expensive number.

Sullivan Goes To Mayo Clinic For Routine Checkup

Rochester, Minn. (AP)— Ed Sullivan, television personality and newspaper columnist, arrived in Rochester Wednesday for a checkup at the Mayo Clinic.

A clinic spokesman said Sullivan, 59, would undergo a routine checkup. Clinic surgeons operated on Sullivan last August to correct a gall bladder condition.

One Vote Nixes Amendment

. . . AIMED AT BLOCKING ROAD TAX DIVERSION

In the closest showdown vote of the current session, the Legislature Wednesday killed on a 22 to 21 count a bill seeking to prohibit the diversion of any highway use taxes from expenditure for highway purposes.

The measure, LB521, would have placed the issue on the ballot in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton cast the deciding vote after a motion to kill deadlocked on a 21 to 21 vote. Burbach was called from the telephone to decide the issue.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, in offering the motion to kill, argued that any such constitutional provision would "tie the hands" of future legislatures.

It would simply "use the constitution to protect us from ourselves," he declared.

Doesn't Belong

Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala said such a prohibition does not belong in the constitution. McGinley said he agrees with the intent of the bill "in principle," but such a provision would be "too restrictive" to place in the constitution.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth agreed: "There would be no attempt to divert funds unless we were confronted with an emergency."

Sen. George Fleming of Sidney, chief author of the bill, argued that the state is "hampered in its long-range highway planning" without such a constitutional provision.

Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha also supported the bill, noting that 28 states have enacted similar prohibitions.

If the proposed constitutional amendment had been adopted, no highway use tax —such as motor vehicle license fees and gas taxes — could be diverted from highway purposes.

One cent of gas tax was once used to help finance the old age assistance program, but Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha pointed out that it represented an increase in the gas tax and not a transfer of funds from highway purposes.

Vote on the motion to kill:

For: Adamson, Bowen, Bridenbaugh, Burbach, Carpenter, Claussen, Damrow, Danner, Foster, Klaver, Kremer, Marvel, McGinley, Moulton, Nelson, Orme, R. Rasmussen, Reeves, Ruhnke, Stryker, Syas, Thompson.

Against: Bahensky, Brandt, Craft, Erlewine, Fleming, Forrester. Gerdes, Gerhart, Gottschalk, Hasebroock, Kjar, Lysinger, Mahoney, Payne, E. Rasmussen, Russillo, Skarda, Stalder, Stromer, Warner, Wylie.

COPS AUCTION OFF CARS; ONE ONLY BRINGS $1

New York (AP) — If you needed a car and didn't have much money, Wednesday was the day.

Eighty-seven vehicles that police had found abandoned on the streets were sold at an auction for a total of $566. The classiest, a dump truck, went for $30.

The cheapest, described as an old heap, brought $1.

Fruits, Vegetables Boost Living Costs

Washington (AP)— Spiraling prices for fresh fruits and vegetables sent living costs up two-tenths of one per cent last month, as measured by the government.

This wiped out a decline of two-tenths of one per cent in the Labor Department's consumer price index in December and moved the index up to 106.0% of its 1957-59 average.

In releasing the January figures Wednesday, Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, said it is quite possible there will be some further upturn in food prices this month. This could put the price index around the high of 106.1 reached last September.

Spectacular

Over - all food prices increased by 1.2% in January but there were some far more spectacular increases for fruits and vegetables resulting from freezing weather in mid-December.

The cost of grapefruit, for example, rose 21.7%, cabbage 39%, green beans 31.6% and orange juice concentrates 25.6%.

The price of bananas advanced 11.8%, but this was attributed to dock strikes on the East and Gulf coasts and not to the weather.

Offset

Declines in some cost-of-living items offset in part the higher food prices.

Prices of beef and pork, as well as dairy products, declined. Egg prices, which normally decline in January moved up somewhat as did bread prices.

Food prices were up 2.1% above their levels of a year earlier. Except for dairy products, which declined 1.7%, all major categories of food purchased for home consumption were higher than a year ago.

Wage Hikes

The advance in living costs will mean wage increases of 1 to 3 cents an hour for some 13,000 workers in small plants scattered across the country. These workers are covered by cost-of-living adjustments on an annual or semi-annual basis.

About one million workers in the automobile, farm equipment, and aerospace industries will get no wage hike since the January price index was at the same level as in October 1962 when their contracts called for a quarterly review.

At the same time, the Bureau of Statistics reported the average spendable earnings of factory workers dropped in January from its record level of the previous month. The main factors were a decrease from 40.5 hours work weekly in December to 40.1 hours in January and an increase in the Social Security tax rate.

U.S. Opens Sale Pitch On N-Fleet

Paris (AP)—The United States opened a sales pitch to its North Atlantic allies Wednesday on the idea of a fleet armed with nuclear weapons. The fleet would be operated by a special group set up under the Atlantic Alliance.

The idea may be difficult to sell, chiefly because the United States insists on controlling the firing button.

U.S. ambassadors Livingston Merchant and Thomas Finletter went before a secret session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) permanent council to present American thinking on the issue. Merchant is President Kennedy's special representative for the nuclear force and Finletter is the permanent U.S. delegate of the NATO council.

U.S. sources said Merchant and Finletter discussed the allied nuclear force idea from its origins in December, 1960, to the present, and solicited views from allied governments. No further action was reported taken at the meeting.

In his contracts with allied officials, Merchant is trying to crystalize European thinking on a multinational force — an idea which has so far failed to take hold despite frequent U.S. efforts to bring it to realization.

The United States, which holds the great bulk of NATO's nuclear power, has recognized the desire of certain allied nations — notably France and West Germany — to have a nuclear role of their own.

In an effort to satisfy this desire and still discourage independent nuclear forces, the United States hopes to arrive at some arrangement which will spread nuclear responsibility through the alliance.

Pact On Cambodia

Tokyo (AP) — Red China announced it is ready to join in an international agreement guaranteeing Cambodia's neutrality. The decision was announced in a joint communique signed by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, visiting Cambodian chief of state, and President Liu Shao-Chi in Peking, a Chinese broadcast said. Cambodia wants guarantees similar to those pledged to neighboring Laos.

Recount Court Rulings Boost Rolvaag Lead To 43 In Minnesota Election

St. Paul, Minn. (AP) — The lead of Karl Rolvaag, the Democratic candidate, rose to 43 Wednesday on fresh rulings from the 3-judge recount court hearing evidence on disputed ballots in the Minnesota governor election.

The court rejected a total of 48 ballots, that had previously been included in the count, 20 for Rolvaag and 28 for Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen. This resulted in an unofficial total of 620,200 for Rolvaag, and 620,157 for Andersen.

Rolvaag petitioned for the recount after the State Canvassing Board announced Andersen had won the Nov. 6 election by 142 votes. A field recount gave Rolvaag a lead of 133 votes. It is from this count that deductions have been ordered by the court.

Absentee Ballots

In one ruling Wednesday, the court ordered discarded 31 absentee ballots, 20 for Andersen and 11 for Rolvaag, cast from a rest home. Rolvaag attorneys alleged they were improperly handled. The court rejected Rolvaag charges of irregularities in the conduct of the election in 3 other communities.

The court also ruled in connection with 4 more classes of disputed ballots — those with surplus voting marks, obliterations and erasures, surplus for marks for governor alone and misplaced marks for governor. These decisions resulted in rejection of 9 Rolvaag ballots and 8 Andersen ballots.

Opposing attorneys are in process of arguing the largest and most difficult class of disputed ballots in Category No. 10 —those with two types of markings, like Xs and checks.

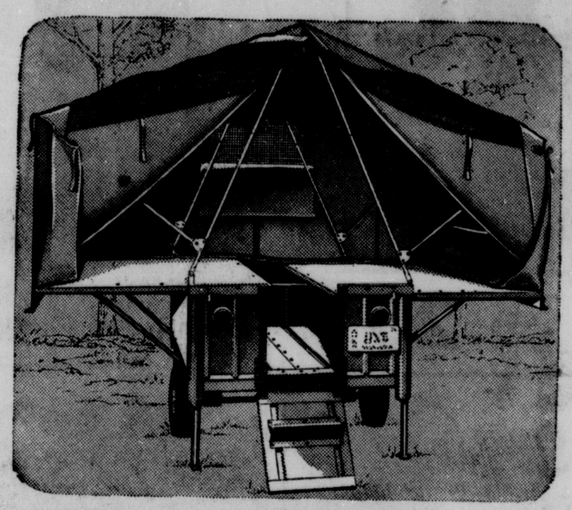

Reaffirmed

The State Supreme Court in a decision Wednesday in an election contest case reaffirmed and emphasized an earlier ruling that ballots with a combination of clear Xs and checks are invalid.

Andersen forces said this decision apparently would give Andersen 21 more votes, since there are 21 more Rolvaag ballots admittedly in the X and check category than there are Andersen ballots.

Capt. Casey Is Appointed Head Of State Safety Patrol

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Capt. Dan J. Casey was named by Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday as the man who will head the Safety Patrol when Col. C. J. Sanders retires June 13.

Casey, 50, has been with the Patrol since it was first organized in 1937. He is now serving as captain of Headquarters Troops in Lincoln.

He will be promoted to the rank of colonel when he succeeds Sanders who will reach the mandatory retirement age of 60 in June.

In announcing his selection of Casey, Morrison said, "I firmly believe the fine record and character of the Safety Patrol which has been evident under Col. Sanders' leadership will be preserved by the appointment of a man who has worked closely with Col. Sanders for years.

"He is a man in whom I, as governor, have complete confidence and respect," Morrison stated at his special news conference.

The governor commented that he had considered a number of "highly qualified" men for the post, but decided to appoint the new chief from "within the Patrol" because he was "very anxious that the high standards of the Safety Patrol be maintained."

Morrison said he announced Sanders' pending retirement "with regret."

Casey termed his appointment a "surprise," and said he considered it a "great, big honor" to be the man chosen to follow Col. Sanders "as he has set up this organization as something to be real proud of."

Sanders said he was "very pleased over the governor's selection of a man from the Patrol."

Queried by newsmen on his view of the 80 additional troopers which Sanders has requested, Casey said. "I think without doubt that we have to have them. With the responsibility we have in the Patrol, and the goal we hope to attain, the 80 men will help achieve that goal of fewer fatalities and accidents."

A native of Johnson, Neb., Casey is married to the former Betty Lindholm of Lincoln. The couple has one daughter, Sandra, 20, a junior at the University of Nebraska.

NU Staffers On Swine Program

Three University of Nebraska staff members will assist with the all-American market hog show at Lamar, Colo., March 1-2.

Appearing as speakers on the program will be Dr. Leo Lucas, Extension animal husbandman, Dr. E. R. Peo Jr., animal husbandry researcher specializing in swine nutrition, and Prof. R. B. Warren of the Animal Husbandry Department.

NU All-State Program Set

Applications opened this week for high school students interested in further study in the fields of art, journalism, music, and speech conducted during the 1963 All-State high school program at the University of Nebraska, June 11-29.

Although enrollment is open to all Nebraska high school students, classes are limited in each field to 225 in music, 60 in speech, 30 in journalism, and 20 in art, according to John P. Moran, assistant professor of music at the university and general manager of All-State.

Besides offering All-Staters drawing, painting, sculpture, and print-making, the department of art will for the first time hold classes in the university's new Nelle Cochrane Woods Art Building and will use university exhibits and collections to study painting and sculpture work.

Museum Displays Attract Record Total Of Visitors

The official yearly report of the University of Nebraska State Museum shows a record total of 330,000 visitors to see the displays at the university, State Fair and Fort Robinson during 1962.

Visitors to the museum alone totalled more than 27,000 which included students from more than 700 schools in the Midwest.

Among the major completions of new displays during the year were the "Hall of Nebraska Wildlife," a fossil rhinoceros bone slab from the world famous Agate Springs Fossil Quarries, and a barnyard animal skeleton display financed by Ralph S. Mueller, a Cleveland, Ohio industrialist.

The major Museum field trips were made to Big Bone Lick, Kentucky; and to the site of two articulated, mammoth skeletons discovered in an Ice Age deposit near Crawford.

Is the small car going out of the picture?

They're growing the new cars much bigger this season.
And to think that only a year or two ago, it was just the other way around.
For a while there, you could buy a car that you could actually park on the first try. And that didn't need power this and power that to get around the block.
We're going to miss them. And we think a lot of other people will, too.
Because we think there are people who still want to put a sensible amount of money into a sensible amount of car.
So prepare yourself: the 1963 Volkswagen is still exactly the same size.
And it looks exactly the same.
Volkswagen dealers still have parts to fit any VW ever made.
And the people who bought 1962 Volkswagens don't feel as though they're driving last year's model.
Maybe most small cars are going out of the picture. But there's one small exception.

Industrial Development Dominates Conference

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

"Community betterment" took a back seat to "industrial development" at the Governor's Conference on both topics held Wednesday at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education for over 200 delegates from across the state.

Wooing industry to the state and keeping it happy occupied the thoughts and words of most of the speakers, although a separate afternoon discussion group was held for those more interested in community betterment in the cultral, recreational and social services fields.

Gov. Frank Morrison launched the conference on the optimistic note that "there is nothing we can't accomplish in the state of Nebraska if we put in the necessary effort and get qualified leadership to get the job done."

He noted that by 1975 "95% of our people will be engaged in the manufacture of products that have not yet been invented or discovered."

'Practical Outlook'

Kenneth Berg of the Midwest Research Institute echoed the governor's statement, commenting: "You must possess the technological capability, tempered by the practical outlook and supported by vigorous leadership. The state is not lacking in skills, and I am impressed by your practical outlook and leadership."

E. A. Leskanic, Beckton Dickinson and Co. vice president, stressed that "Nebraska's greatest asset in inducing industry is your labor market" which he called "unspoiled, very productive, and independent."

"Promote what you have — the finest labor market in this country — use it, recognize it and protect it," the businessman urged.

Richard Murphy of Arthur D. Little Inc., who aided in planning Lincoln's industrial park, listed the advantages and disadvantages the area offers to industries seeking new sites.

On the favorable side, Murphy noted high quality and productive labor, satisfactory wage levels, a low level of unionization, attractive tax status, an abundance of the services (utilities, etc.) industry requires, and construction costs of about 80-85% of highly industrialized areas, research and educational facilities and IDA financing.

Low Tax Negative

On the other side of the ledger, Little noted that trained labor was migrating out of the state, low taxes could mean low levels of tax-supported services needed by industry, high transportation costs to major consumer markets, and the lack of close high-population areas.

Otto Hoiberg, head of the community services department of the University of Nebraska, told the group that development programs must be thought of in terms of larger areas and not in single-minded "little, local terms."

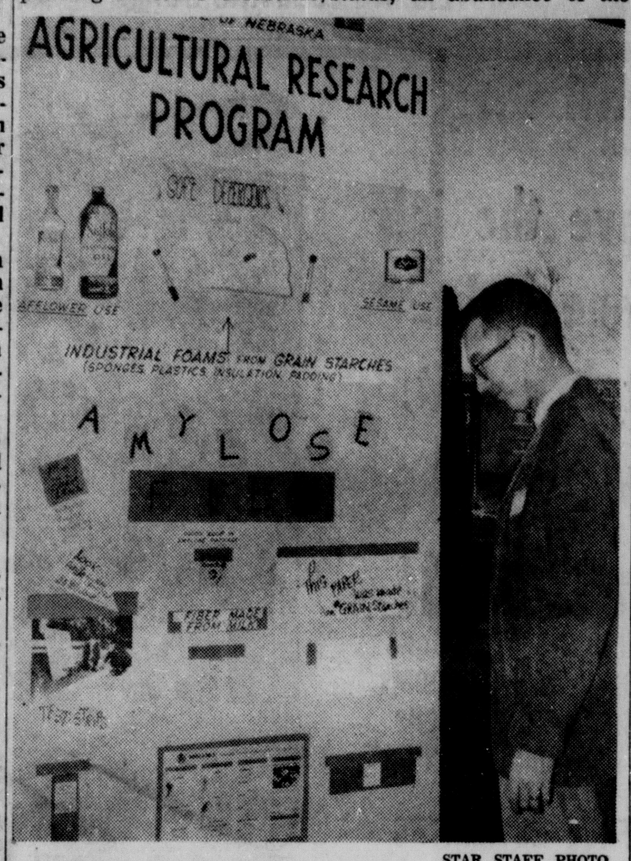

Dr. Randall Klemme, vice president of Northern Natural Gas, pinpointed 3 factors which are changing our way of life, whether we want it changed or not. They are:

—The age of science. "Research and development of all industry has skyrocketed."

— The age of trained manpower. "The local community must provide the vocational training facilities in trade schools, and must meet the needs of universities capable of equipping young people and industry."

— A time of urbanization. "We must learn to plan together much better for the influx of people into cities. . . "

John Fraker reviewed a case history of the location of the Brunswick plan in Lincoln. He is executive vice president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

REDS OVERRUN VIET NAM POST

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—About 300 Communist guerrillas overran a government outpost 90 miles west of Saigon Wednesday, killing 7 of the defenders.

South Vietnamese Air Force planes strafed the attackers and forced them back into the jungle. There was no immediate report of Viet Cong casualties.

Dairy Groups Elect Whiting, Stewart

Omaha (AP)— The Nebraska Dairy Industries Association elected G. R. Whiting of Omaha as president and the Nebraska co-operative Creameries Inc., named Dale N. Stewart of Madison as its chief at annual meetings of the groups Wednesday.

The Dairy Industries Association chose George McCoy, Lincoln, as vice president; Carl Sorensen, Kimball, secretary; G. C. Millnitz, Plainview, treasurer, and A. J. Wasson, Omaha, executive secretary.

Clyde Stone, Lyons, is vice president of the dairies group, Emil Babka, Ord, is secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. B. E. Montgomery, Omaha, executive secretary.

The Dairy Boosters Association re-elected E. P. Edman, Omaha, as president, and Jim Matlack, Omaha, as secretary-treasurer. The vice president is Earl Swain, Omaha.

11 Airmen Killed In World War II Crash Buried At National Cemetery

Washington (AP) — Eleven World War II airmen were buried Wednesday in a grave on a wintry hillside of Arlington National Cemetery, a long way in space and time from the tropical storm which probably killed them.

The remains of the crewmen who were aboard a B25 bomber that crashed on a New Guinea mountainside in 1944 were found two years ago. Wednesday they were buried with full military honors in the national cemetery, near others who died in World War II.

Precisely how the crash occurred never will be known. There were only two bits of information: A final radio message from the bomber on Feb. 1, 1944, reporting it was turning back because of weather; and the discovery in April 1961 of the wreckage and what the elements had left of the bodies.

Here is about all that is known, 19 years after the event:

The B25 Mitchell bomber took off from Dobodura, on the southeastern coast of a peninsula of New Guinea, on what was intended as a ferrying flight to Port Moresby across the peninsula.

The direct distance between the two places is only about 100 miles. But most planes in those days either flew to the south, around the peninsula tip, or went east over the sea to gain altitude, then headed west for Moresby.

The reason was the Owen Stanley Mountain Range. Peaks in the ridge push up more than 13,000 feet.

Not long after departure from Dobodura, the pilot, Lt. Walter P. Gerry, radioed that he was turning back because of bad weather. Nothing more was heard. The next morning search planes fanned out over the area. The search went on for days, but no trace was found.

A dozen planes were lost in that part of New Guinea during the war. Ground and air searches were made, one of them in 1949. Then two years ago an Australian Army search team probing in the mountain jungle came upon the wreckage of the B25.

The army says it is understandable that the wreckage of any plane could remain unfound for years or forever. Air Force pilots who flew in New Guinea in those days say this is so.

One pilot recalls seeing a plane crash into the thick rain forest of the Stanley Range. He remembers that "the jungle just closed over it as it fell in," with no trace remaining of where it struck.

Line squalls, wind thunderstorms and severe turbulence occur frequently in the early months of the year. The rain is unbelievably dense; "it's like flying into mud because it just drags you down," the pilot says.

The B25 was found at 10,500 feet, on the side of Mt. Kenevi.

Bodies Are Found

Marsala, Sicily (UPI) — Police announced they had discovered 4 unidentified bodies in a second clandestine Mafia cemetery. Eight bodies were discovered 20 days ago in a similar secret cemetery in a grotto.

Boycotted School's Attendance Up

Englewood, N.J. (AP)—Attendance rose at the Lincoln Elementary School Wednesday as a boycott by Negro parents went into its second day. But there was a difference of opinion on the boycott's effectiveness.

School authorities said 202 of Lincoln's 498 pupils were absent Wednesday, compared to 239 who were absent Tuesday. Principal Leroy McCloud said the boycott should now be considered 32% effective. The percentage of absenteeism is figured after allowing for an estimated 8% absence for illness.

McCloud said he felt the intensity of the boycott was easing. "We feel the percentage of absenteeism will keep going down day by day," he said.

But Negro Councilman Vincente K. Tibbs, who led pickets outside the building, disagreed.

"I'm not particularly concerned about attendance numbers or how many people are out there on the picket line with me," he said. "This school segregation is something that's morally wrong. I feel that even if attendance at school were 100% it's the principle of the thing."

Lincoln school has 490 Negro children and 8 whites. The boycott was called as a protest against what Negro groups call de facto segregation based on neighborhood housing patterns. New Jersey law provides that children attend the schools nearest their homes.

Little Boy Bruised In 2-Car Collision

Terry D. Zank, 6, of Rt. 1, was taken to a doctor for treatment of bruises and abrasions he received in an auto accident at 12th and J Wednesday noon.

Terry was a passenger in a car driven by Marilyn J. Zank, 29. The Zank car, going north on 13th, was in collision with a car eastbound on J driven by James A. Mastera, 19, of 1745 A.

Domain Bill Moved To Legislature

A bill allowing the State Game Commission to use eminent domain on a restricted basis to acquire sites for state parks and recreation areas was advanced to the floor of the Legislature Wednesday by a 5-2 vote of the Judiciary Committee.

The action on LB394 was taken after the committee adopted an amendment to the bill restricting the commission's use of eminent domain only to those areas set forth in the 10-year state park program submitted to the 1961 Legislature.

An earlier motion to kill the bill was defeated 4-3.

The emergency clause was added to the measure.

Three Areas

The 4 areas of principle interest relating to the bill include development of the Indian Cave and Ash Hollow sites, and land near the Shelton and Gibbon Interchanges on the Interstate Highway.

Indian Cave and Ash Hollow are planned for state parks and the Shelton and Gibbon Interchange areas will be developed as wayside areas.

In other action during its 4-hour executive session, the committee killed, by unanimous vote, LB324 which would have required approval by the Legislature, rather than the governor, for the Game Commission to acquire title to real property.

Also killed was LB69 which would have revised penalties on bad check convictions, and LB289 permitting defendants to ask jury trials in county court at any time prior to trial.

Bills advanced included:

LB200—Revising law relating to guardians and wards.

LB275—Revising uniform criminal extradition act.

LB276—Providing new law on searches and seizures.

LB188—Barring aliens from holding labor organization offices.

LB435—Providing for suppression and disposition of evidence obtained by unlawful search and seizure.

LB290—Exempting county judges from bond in single cases.

LB303—Increasing fees received by county judges in certain testamentary trusts.

LB373—Requiring informational reports to accompany deed or conveyance of real property.

LB85—Increasing from 65 to 70 the maximum age for certain election judges and clerks.

LB127—Clarifying Lincoln's building code authority within its zoning jurisdiction.

LB128—Exempting certain Lincoln city officers and employes from furnishing bonds in prescribed cases.

LB129—Exempting Lincoln city property from taxation, liens and sale.

Omaha Company Submits Low Bid On Paint Striper

An Omaha firm was the apparent low bidder at $3,774 for furnishing a paint-striping machine for the Lincoln traffic engineering department, city officials said Wednesday.

T. S. McShane Co., Omaha, submitted the apparent low bid. Others were Highway Equipment & Supply Co., Lincoln, $4,600, and Wald Industries, Huntingdon, Pa., $7,500.

Officials anticipated an analysis of the bids and recommendation would be made Monday to the City Council.

Dobson Bros. Construction Co. was apparent low at $31,332.60 for constructing a 48-inch storm sewer in Maple Village First Addition near 84th and O.

Other bidders were Roberts Construction, $31,913; Chambers Construction, $33,123.40; H. R. Bookstrom Construction, $33,990.40, and N. L. Cole Construction, $34,419.

Power Rate Authority Added

The Legislature's Public Works Committee Wednesday decided on a tight 4-3 vote to hand the proposed state public power review board advisory authority over rate disputes between power agencies.

Such provisions were contained in the original draft of LB220. The issue was settled on a motion to strike rate review authority.

Action was taken in an executive committee meeting, the seventh hour of closed sessions on the power proposal.

In other amendments, the committee provided retail electric agencies serving zoning areas outside the corporate limits of municipalities with authority to negotiate the transfer of properties and loads.

The power review board would retain jurisdiction over such negotiations.

The committee also adopted amendments which point up the fact that the board has no final authority in rate disputes—although it does possess such authority in ruling on retail service area boundaries and in approving construction of major new generation and transmission facilities.

Appeals from the board's decisions may be taken directly to the State Supreme Court.

LB220 will now be completely rewritten by the bill drafter's office to incorporate amendments adopted by the committee.

The bill will then once again be re-examined section by section.

Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection Killed

A bill which would have directed semi annual safety inspections of all motor vehicles was killed Wednesday by a 4-2 vote of the Public Works Committee.

The measure, LB207, was heard Jan. 28.

At its public hearing, the bill attracted no opposition testimony — although several amendments were proposed, chiefly to cut such inspections to no more than one a year.

Motor vehicle inspection was endorsed by Gov. Frank Morrison in his inaugural address.

Meanwhile, a bill defining ground water was advanced to the floor on a 5-0 vote following a public hearing.

The measure, LB491, is one of the outshoots of an interim study of water problems by a Legislative Council committee.

The bill defines ground water as "that water which occurs or moves, seeps, filters or percolates through the ground under the surface of the land."

Advanced was LB463, a measure allowing a person up to a year to file for a gas tax refund. Now, such claims must be filed within 7 months from the time the fuel is purchased.

Pumping Permits

The committee held another bill Wednesday which would require anyone desiring to pump water for irrigation purposes from pits within 200 feet of a natural stream to first secure a license from the State Water Resources Department.

The bill, LB489, was amended by the committee so that it would not apply to wells as originally proposed. A motion to kill failed, 2-3.

This measure also was recommended by the legislative interim committee.

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City said LB489 was designed to prevent landowners from sinking wells to draw water from lakes or streams.

George Brownfield of Hershey opposed LB489, contending it would give the state the power to regulate ground water which it has no right to do.

Ray Burnt of Spalding, representing the Nebraska Water Users Association, suggested it be amended to exclude wells.

Stan Matzke, secretary of the Nebraska State Irrigation Association, appeared in support of LB491.

Stryker noted ground water has never been defined by law.

The bill originally called for a definition of underground water, but the committee, after consulting with State Water Resources Director Dan Jones, determined ground water was the same thing and so amended the bill.

Davidson To Be In Council Race

W. H. (Bill) Davidson of 2101 So. 48th indicated Wednesday he will be a candidate for City Council.

Davidson, 50, owns a Lincoln insurance agency and has served on several governmental committees.

Nominating petitions for Davidson are expected to be filed soon with the election commissioner's office.

Lincoln Teacher Retirement Bill Passage Urged

A 5-member legislative advisory committee on retirement systems has recommended enactment of LB247, the permissive Lincoln Board of Education retirement system bill.

Other measures which received the committee's approval were LB115, relating to airport authorities, and LB70, a Douglas County retirement bill.

None of the measures would produce any cost to the state.

Members of the committee are Sens. Harold Stryker of Rising City, chairman, and Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln, George Gerdes of Alliance, Jules Burbach of Crofton and Albert Kjar of Lexington.

Thirsty Swedes Hit Liquor Stores

Stockholm, Sweden (AP)—Panicky crowds of Swedes — a traditionally thirsty lot — stormed the state liquor stores Wednesday.

The foremen at the state liquor monopoly went on strike over vacation time.

Rumors circulated that the more popular types of drink —Vodka, whisky, brandy and domestic Braennvin — will be exhausted in a few days.

License Deadline Extension Axed

The Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee was told Wednesday "you can't legislate out of existence" the long lines which form at county courthouses as the deadline for motor vehicle registration renewals is near.

The committee agreed and killed by a vote of 4-2 LB371 which would have given motorists an additional 30 days to make the renewals.

The action came after chief introducer, Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, asked them to ax the proposal. Under the bill, the renewals could have been made any time between Dec. 1 and March 1. The current period is Jan. 1 to March 1.

Klaver said the Douglas County treasurer's office informed him the measure was not needed.

Chief spokesman for the proposal was Charles Stava of Omaha who argued the extra 30 days would give the auto owner a break. He said he had checked and found many states which have earlier renewal dates than Nebraska.

Sen. George Syas of Omaha, who helped sponsor the bill, said it would help families which find themselves "financially crowded" around the first of the year.

In other action, the committee gave 6-0 approval to LB317 and LB318 which repeal several sections of the statutes relating to the Department of Agriculture which the department said are never used.

LB367, which deletes the requirement that municipal clerks in first-class cities must attach the city seal to all warrants drawn upon the treasury and also eliminates outmoded procedures dealing with warrants, was also advanced 6-0.

Swine Men Ask More Cholera Aid

Representatives of the swine industry made a bid to the Legislature's Budget Committee Wednesday for increased financial support of a proposed Nebraska hog cholera eradication program.

Sought is a biennial appropriation of $77,420 to pay the cost of salaries of one full-time administrative veterinarian, one part-time veterinarian, one lay inspector, two office clerks and other expenses.

Former State Sen. Willard Waldo of De Witt led the presentation as chairman of a state action committee for the cholera eradication effort.

Losses to Nebraska from hog cholera, including vaccination costs, total $1.1 million per year, the committee was told.

Sixth-ranked state nationally in hog production, Nebraska experienced 50 hog cholera outbreaks in 25 counties, involving 5,610 head, from May 15 to Dec. 31 last year.

In 1961 President Kennedy signed legislation setting up a cooperative state-federal program to eradicate hog cholera, and approximately 40 states representing 90% of swine production have formed or are in the process of setting up an eradication program, the committee was advised.

Ultimate goal is total eradication of the disease, utilizing state and federal quarantines to protect cholera free areas, so that vaccination would no longer be necessary.

In other action, the committee heard and held for later action LB595, which would supply funds to the Disabled American Veterans, Department of Nebraska, to pay for the services of a clerk.

THE WORLD IS NOT TOO BIG FOR LINCOLN

This big, wide wonderful world we live in isn't too large and round for Lincoln people. Europe, Asia and Africa are visited as casually these days as was Omaha some years back. We're a traveling populace here in Lincoln, and various of the citizens have traveled, are traveling, or will travel over most of a world that seems to be shrinking as far as the time element is concerned.

The Canary Islands, for instance, are a long way from home — but Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Williams were there not too long ago, and after a week or so in the Canaries, they flew to Europe where they are spending some time on the Continent before returning to Lincoln.

And a long, long way off have gone Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Smith who left on Tuesday evening for Japan, Hong Kong and Indonesia — For Mr. Smith it is a business trip — for Mrs. Smith a long and exciting plane ride, and plenty of sight-seeing.

There are those, however, who have returned from their travels — Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. J. Knox Jones are just home from a three weeks holiday — The first week of the winter vacation was spent at Ft. Lauderdale, and after that a two weeks Caribbean cruise.

* * *

Now we're back to the activity around town and especially the activity during the weekend.

We hear that the members of the Terpsichorean Club and their guests will be out and about on Saturday evening when the group dines and dances at Hotel Lincoln. St. Patrick is the inspiration for the party theme, and in charge of the arrangements is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Francis D. Parish, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reger, Mr. and Mrs. John Capron, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kubitschek and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Foster.

Guest couples at the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Dunbar.

Variety Is Suburban Spice

Attend Tea

Members of the Lincoln Credit Women's Club were guests last Sunday of the Omaha Credit Women's Club at a tea and fashion show held at the Sheraton-Fontenelle Hotel in Omaha.

Lincoln members attending were Mrs. Arlene Yost, Mrs. Helen Welch, Mrs. Nelle Hudkins, Mrs. Belle Keitges and Mrs. Harriett McNulty.

Brownell PTA

Brownell PTA members awarded their first PTA Life Membership on Tuesday evening to Miss Betty Beall, general assignment teacher at the school.

The award was made during the unit's Founders Day program, which was held in the school's new auditorium. Program speaker was Ray Huitt, whose topic was, "Getting Along With Children".

Named to the nominating committee were Mrs. William Carley, chairman, Mrs. Ray Westover and Mrs. Vincent Collura. Mothers of 5th graders were hostesses for the social hour.

EASTBOROUGH

Before we can even begin to tell you about what Eastborough is doing this week, we must finish our report of last week's activities.

We know for a fact that coffees were quite popular, for we mentioned several earlier this week, and another on Friday was at the Ben Larson home. This time, however, Mrs. Larson was a guest in her own home, for the hostesses were Mrs. Raymond Degenhardt, Mrs. P. E. Thompson, Mrs. Jack Betz, and Mrs. Wayne Schoch.

This morning get-together was to honor Mrs. Larson on her birthday, and to officially welcome several new neighbors in Eastborough.

Invited newcomers being specially honored were Mrs. Ronald Reed, Mrs. Jack Sparks, Mrs. Walt O'Neil, and Mrs. Roger Keeney.

Other guests honoring the "birthday girl" and their newer neighbors were Mrs. Sam Dillow, Mrs. Frank Spale, Mrs. Richard Kelsay, Mrs. Jack Weaver, Mrs. Wells Hunt, Mrs. Donald Salmonson, Mrs. William Johnson, and Mrs. Johnson's daughter-in-law who is visiting in Lincoln, Mrs. William Johnson Jr.

Back in Eastborough last Wednesday evening after a few days in Meno, Okla., were Mrs. Marvin Flickinger and her daughters, Cheryl and Melony. The trio journeyed to Meno on Monday, and spent three days with relatives there.

More Eastborough residents who are in the proccess of moving, but who also will be fairly near, are Capt. and Mrs. Larry Garrett and their sons, Ricky and Nicky.

The Garrett family members, who made their home at 521 No. 70th until this week, will soon be residing at Lincoln Air Force Base.

Two more news bits from Eastborough this morning come from the Robert W. Bridges and Keith Erlewine households.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Bridges entertained Eastborough and Meadow Lane neighbors at the twice-monthly gathering of the group's bridge club. Dessert and, of course, bridge were scheduled for the evening's entertainment.

It wasn't a long trip for Mr. and Mrs. Erlewine, but it was a fun day for them when they drove to Omaha on Friday to spend the day shopping there. They returned to Lincoln that evening.

EASTRIDGE

More initiates into the "slumber party survivors" set are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Mercer who were hosts recently at one of the all night affairs honoring their daughter, Bonnie, on her 12th birthday.

The sleepless little ladies helping Bonnie celebrate that big day (and night) were Toni Freeman, Sidney Smith, Janet Gassman, Gigi Garrett, Linda Hassler, Margaret Culwell, Jane Barbee, Kathy Garrett, Nancy Dudley, and Carol Sward.

Eastridge residents in Chicago recently were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brogden. Mr. and Mrs. Brogden left Lincoln on Feb. 20 to spend several days with Mrs. Brogden's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Muth. They returned to Lincoln on Sunday.

Travelers from South Dakota were in Lincoln recently, and they were entertained during their one day stopover here on Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Evans and their youngsters, Kathie, David, and Nancy.

Those visitors were Mrs. Evans' mother, Mrs. Frank Talbot, and brother, Larry Talbot, both of Mitchell, S.D., and her sister, Mrs. Dean Hansen, of Mt. Vernon, S.D.

On Saturday evening the South Dakota residents drove to Fremont where they visited other relatives, and where Mr. and Mrs. Evans and their children joined them on Sunday for a large family dinner.

The birthday boy in the neighborhood last week was Master Philip Hammar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Hammar, who celebrated his seventh birthday with several of his fellow-first-graders from Eastridge School on Saturday.

It was a "Circus Party," and we hear that the young man of the hour and his 20 guests were entertained by a clown, who just might have been Philip's sister, Anne, a sophomore at Southeast.

Dear Abby

Marriage Not For Children

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I think the parent-planned marriages like they had in the old country years ago should become a custom in this country. Why not let the girls marry at 16 and finish their education in an all-married-girls' high school? It would save a lot of wear and tear on parents who have a tough time keeping their daughters in line.

MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.: Marriage is for mature people — not children. Granted, some mature people make a poor choice, but the key to keeping daughters in line is not wedlock. When a girl marries she should be mature enough to make a home for her husband and to rear any children that follow. Mixing school books with milk bottles and bills is for the birds.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Just exactly what is an engagement ring supposed to mean, and how long should an engagement last? I got an engagement ring two years ago Christmas and so far my boy friend has made no plans for our future. When I ask him to help me set a wedding date, he finds a hundred excuses. The main one is that he is in debt. It is no wonder, the way he spends money before he gets it. Should I give him his ring back or wait some more? I am 22 and he is 24.

LONG ENGAGEMENT

DEAR LONG: Before you make the decision, collar your boy friend and ask him what his plans for the future are. If he has none — and doesn't want to make any— it means he is not seriously considering marriage. In which case, return his ring.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain why a girl has to accept a date with the first boy who asks her for a special occasion — or else stay home? The creepiest boys get wise to this and ask unreasonably early. I realize a girl can't refuse on the grounds that she hopes someone more desirable will ask her. But if she tells the early caller that she "might be out of town" and then shows up with a date, she makes the early caller mad at her. It seems there should be a way out for a girl.

ONE GIRL'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If a girl doesn't care to accept a date with a fellow (no matter when he calls her), she should simply say, "I'm sorry. I'm busy." (She could be "busy" at home, cleaning dresser drawers, etc.) The less fibbing a girl does, the better.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In the islands of the South Pacific, it is the custom for the women to wear a flower over one ear. When a girl has a boy friend or is married, she wears the flower over a certain ear. If she is not going with anyone special, she wears it over the other ear. I keep forgetting which ear is which. Can you help me?

U.S. MARINE

DEAR MARINE: The flower over the left ear means she is "taken"—the flower over the right ear means she's "available." (But it's those gals with flowers over BOTH ears you have to be careful of.)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Every morning at 6:15 I got up and prepared a king-sized breakfast for a king of a man. I never missed a morning from February 15th, 1916, until June 3rd, 1960. Now he is gone, and I can't break the habit of getting up at that hour. Sometimes I absent-mindedly set the table for two. Tell that lazy wife who refuses to give her husband breakfast to send him to my house. I'll cheerfully feed him and be glad for the company.

"Gwul Dewi Sant"

What St. Patrick is to the Irish, so St. David is to the Welsh — their patron Saint— and the Welsh in eastern Nebraska and western Iowa will gather on Saturday, March 2, to observe "Gwul Dewi Sant".

"Gwul Dewi Sant" (St. David's Day) will be celebrated at a 6:30 o'clock banquet and program in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Cornhusker, and will be preceded by an informal reception beginning at 3 o'clock.

All who trace their lineage to Wales are invited to attend.

Displays of national costumes and crafts, colored films of Wales, and reminiscences by those who migrated to America from Wales will be included in the program, which will conclude with the singing of Welsh music.

Chapter Hears Guest Speakers

A program on make-up was given by chapter guests, Mrs. Pam Winkler and Miss Margie Dietz, Tuesday evening at the meeting of Phi Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Following the meeting, the group honored Mrs. Woodrow Denham, Jr., at a farewell party. Mrs. Denham and her husband will leave Lincoln in the near future for England, where Mr. Denham will be stationed with the Air Force for two years.

PEO Chapter

Mrs. F. C. Colby will be hostess at her home, 2515 Rathbone, to the members of Chapter DM, PEO, on Saturday. The meeting and program will follow a 12:30 o'clock luncheon.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
5♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead — ten of spades.

The outcome of most hands depends on how the opponents' cards are divided. Where a contract depends solely on the favorable distribution of a suit of the success of a finesse, all you can do is hope that the fates will be on your side.

But some hands that appear to depend on luck can occasionally be salvaged by good play. The luck element can be reduced at the same time that the chances of success are increased.

For example, look at this hand where South is in five clubs and West leads a spade. East wins and continues with a spade which South ruffs.

Declarer now has an excellent chance of making the contract. He can draw trumps, lead the king and another diamond, and finesse the jack. If the finesse wins, he is home. But even if it loses, his prospects are still good. The diamonds may be divided 3-3, and failing that, the heart finesse may work.

All these chances added together make South a strong favorite to make five clubs. Yet, as the East-West cards happen to lie, South would go down if he followed this course of play. He would lose the diamond finesse, and later the heart finesse, and suffer a one-trick defeat.

However, declarer has a better chance to make the contract if he varies his play slightly. After drawing trumps he should first cash the ace and king of diamonds. In the actual case, this safety play succeeds, since East was dealt the doubleton queen.

Note that the rejection of the diamond finesse does not harm South one bit. Suppose East had held the x-x of diamonds instead of Q-x. Declarer would still make the hand by leading towards the J-x in dummy and establishing the jack as a trick on which to discard a heart.

The point is that the diamond finesse is not necessary even if West has the queen, and hence should not be taken. The maximum chance of making the contract is attained by refusing the finesse.

Brides Book

Revealing plans for an April wedding is Miss Judy Tenhulzen, Kappa Alpha Theta at the University of Nebraska, who will become the bride of J. Dennis Holm of Sioux Falls, S.D., on Sunday, April 14.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tenhulzen of Denison, Iowa, has chosen her sister, Miss Jane Tenhulzen, as her maid of honor, and her bridesmaids will be her sister, Miss Cindy Tenhulzen, and Miss Linda Resseguie of Madison.

Lighting the candles for the 7:30 o'clock evening service, which will be solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church in Denison, will be Miss Barbara Brewick and Mr. Holm's sister, Miss Marcia Holm, both of Sioux Falls.

William Wright of Omaha will serve as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Ronald Olson, Manila, Iowa; Paul Christianson, North Platte; Joe Thorn, Brookings, S.D.; John Brewick, Sioux Falls, S.D.; and Enis Alldredge, Jr.

Miss Tenhulzen's brother, Dale Tenhulzen, will be the ringbearer.

The series of prenuptial courtesies honoring April bride-elect, Miss Bernice Zelen, is continuing to fill the social calendar the last few weeks preceding Miss Zelen's marriage to Charles Schimmel of Wichita, Kan.

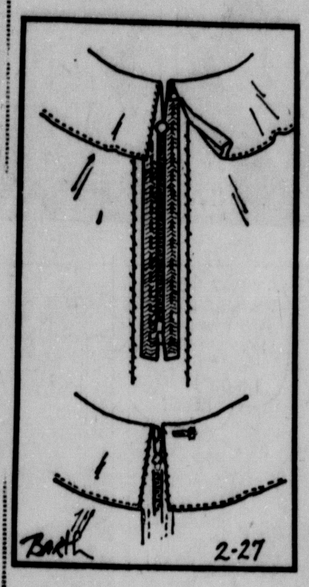

Next Sunday morning, the bride-to-be will be the guest of honor at a morning coffee for which Miss Norma Sitzman will be hostess.

A dinner for which Mrs. Ben Ross was hostess honored Miss Zelen on Wednesday evening, and entertaining at a coffee last Monday morning were Mrs. Joseph Goodman, Mrs. Max Neiden and Mrs. Louis Sommerhauser.

Questions And Answers

Patricia Scott

Q. I have a question regarding back neck zippers. How do you finish the facing and the zipper? Is the zipper attached over the facing or is the zipper put on first and then the facing? What do you do with the loose ends? — Mrs. C. P. S.

A. First put on the zipper. Then attach the facing. After that, attach the facing edges to the underside of the placket. Trim the edges of the facing a bit, then fold them under and hand-stitch them to the zipper tape as shown in the top illustration. Be sure to fold under the facing far enough so it will not get in the way when the zipper is opened and closed. Now, make a tiny thread loop on the left edge above the zipper and sew a small hook on the opposite edge of the placket. When the hook is closed, the two placket edges should come together so that the hook is hidden when you are wearing a garment (see bottom illustration).

Q. How can I shrink the knee of my husband's wool trousers between cleanings? They look so sloppy and I can't seem to reduce the excess fullness. — Mrs. T. B.

A. You can do a pretty good job with the right equipment. You'll need a wool press cloth, a regular cotton or linen press cloth and a steam iron. Set your steam iron for "wool." Lay trouser leg on the ironing board with the front crease facing upward. Place the wool press cloth on top of the trouser and then the other press cloth on top of the wool cloth. Steam until fullness disappears.

Q. I'm making a plaid dress with a band down the center front of the bodice. If this band is cut on the bias, should the interfacing be cut the same or can it be cut on the straight grain to keep the band from stretching out of shape? — Miss D. D.

A. The interfacing for the bias band must also be cut on the bias. If the outside fabric and interfacing are not cut on the same grain, you'll have a great problem, especially after dry cleaning. The outside bias band will still sag while the interfacing will react quite differently. Result: rippled band!

SCARLET SALUTE:

Fleming Points Sorely Needed

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Mike Fleming is one of several Nebraska Cornhuskers who will have to supply points in more than one event if the Scarlets are going to have a chance to win the Big 8 indoor track title this weekend.

Fleming is slated to compete in the mile and the 1,000-yard run.

In by-passing the two-mile, Fleming won't defend the indoor crown he won at Kansas City last year. But he'll be trying to add the indoor blue ribbon to the mile title he copped outdoors last spring.

No Tears

The Husker co-captain isn't shedding any tears about missing the two-mile, however.

"I don't care very much about the two-mile," he said.

Fleming said the decision to double in the mile and 1,000 is because of a "main concern of points."

Coach Frank Sevigne feels Fleming's best events are the mile and two-mile, but explained:

"If he doubled in those events, I'd have to pull out some other half milers. Our best chance for the most points is to have Mike run the 1,000 and use our other middle distance men in the 880."

"Good Bet"

Sevigne said Fleming "is capable of winning the mile and he's a good bet for a double.

"Mike has a good cross country season (he was the Big 8 champion) and this indicates he should have a better year all around," Sevigne said.

Fleming isn't counting his title before the meet, however.

"A lot depends on how fast the mile goes," Mike said. "If it goes around 4:11 or 4:12, it will be tough to come back real strong in the 1,000.

"One At A Time"

"I am just going to take the races one at a time," Fleming added. "I'm going to try to win the mile, then worry about the 1,000. I don't want to fall asleep in the mile worrying about the 1,000."

Fleming predicts the mile is "sure to go under 4:15."

How about strategy?

"I like to lay back and wait for the latter part of the race," Mike said, indicating he'll let the other Big 8 milers set the early pace."

Can Nebraska win the Big 8 title?

"I don't know," Mike said. "We've got a chance, but a lot of guys are going to have to come through. We don't have it cinched—and we shouldn't go down there thinking we do. One thing I'll say — don't count Kansas out of it."

Fleming's best mile to date is 4:18 and last week he ran a 4:33 dead heat with teammate Ray Stevens. Can he run faster?

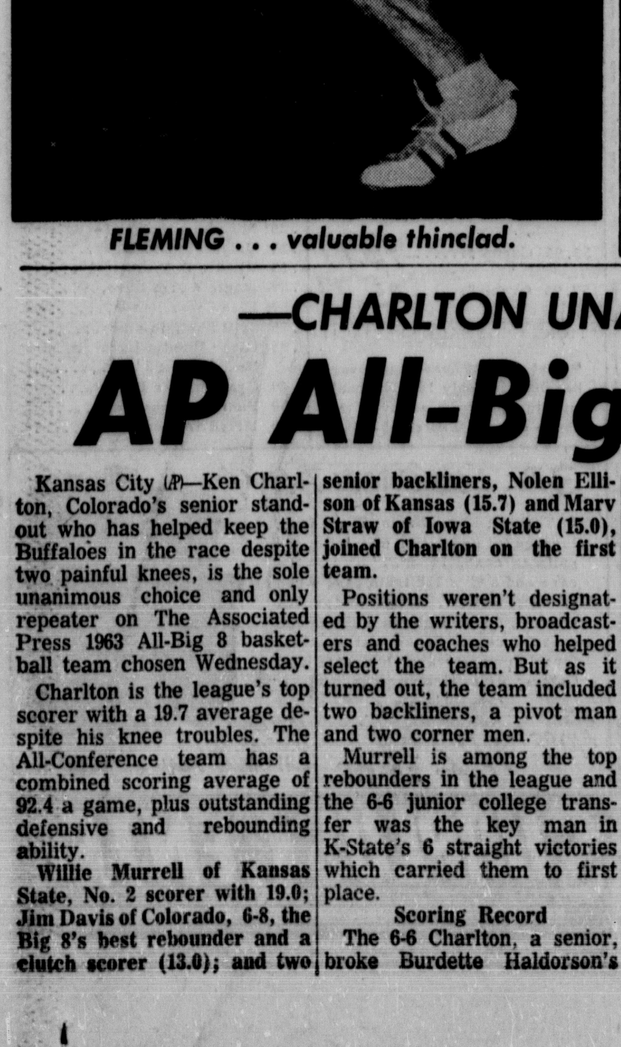

"Yes, we haven't had real tough competition — and the better the competition, the faster you go."

Fleming has some happy words for the future, calling the NU freshman middle distance crew "the best since I've been here."

Ex-Cage Star Retherford NU Candidate

Former Nebraska basketball star Claude Retherford, now a successful junior college coach in California, is one of many applicants for the job left vacant by Jerry Bush's resignation, The Star has learned.

Retherford, renowned for his hip-shooting for Harry Good's championship Husker teams in 1949 and 1950, is at Tulare J.C.

Another applicant is Jim Iverson of South Dakota State, former Kansas State cage star.

Nebraska athletic director Tippy Dye, however, declined to talk about any names in regard to the NU vacancy.

Asked about a report Wednesday that Frank Truitt, assistant coach at Ohio State, might be the next Husker coach, Dye said:

"There has been no decision whatsoever and there won't be for a while. I've visited with several people and will visit with a lot more before we name a coach."

Wesleyan Paired With Mich. Tech

Nebraska Wesleyan has been paired opposite Michigan Tech in the first game of the NCAA Midwest regional tourney at Brookings, S.D.

The Plainsmen, defending tournament champions, will take the floor on March 8 at 7 p.m. Host South Dakota State tangles with Cornell College of Iowa at 9.

Finals will be played March 9th at 9 p.m. with a consolation game scheduled for 7.

$100,000 FOR THE MICK

MICKEY SIGNS . . . as general manager Roy Hamey center and Joe DiMaggio look on.

Shares Elite Spot With Willie Mays

. . . MARIS ALSO ACCEPTS TERMS

Fort Lauderdale, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankee star with the booming bat and the fragile legs, stepped up to the $100,000 class Wednesday, a level he shares only with Willie Mays among active players.

Roger Maris, the other half of the M & M wrecking crew, came to terms an hour later for the same $72,000 he earned last year.

Thus the world champion Yankees gathered in their two high-priced stars on the same day, without any sign of a struggle.

Special Rites

Mantle signed his hundred grand document at a special ceremony attended by Joe DiMaggio, the only other Yankee to reach that plateau.

Mays, DiMaggio, Ted Williams and Stan Musial are the only other players ever to earn $100,000 for a season.

Babe Ruth's top salary was $80,000, earned in the low tax years of 1930 and 1931.

Break Precedent

The Yankees broke precedent by showing Mantle's contract to the newsmen. They also did something unusual by revealing that their two stars had come to terms on the same day.

Such announcements are ordinarily spaced for maximum publicity mileage, but they apparently decided to let out the complete word because of the New York newspaper strike, now nearing the end of its 3rd month.

Mantle and the Yankees apparently agreed on the $100,000 figure back in January. The switch-hitting outfielder made about $85,000 in 1962.

Maris was expected to get a cut, but the Yankees said their only offer to him was for the same figure as last year. After Mickey signed, Roger telephoned Yankee President Dan Topping in Miami and they quickly agreed.

Mantle went straight to the ball field for a workout. Maris will report Thursday.

The M&M boys were the only Yankees not signed. All the players are in Fort Lauderdale, except second baseman Bobby Richardson, who went on a tour in Japan for a religious organization.

Mantle hit .321 last year for the Yankees, the 8th time he has gone over the .300 mark. He also banged out 30 home runs, and was named the league's most valuable player, although he missed nearly 40 games with a leg injury.

He had also been most valuable in 1956 and 1957.

With Mantle out of the lineup, the Yankees played .500 ball. When he returned they drove on to the pennant.

Mantle said he had received a raise from the Yankees every year except 1960. That year he fell from $77,000 to $70,000 after hitting only .285.

Two Teams Complete NIT Field

New York (AP)—Two New York teams—Fordham and St. Francis—completed the 12-team field Wednesday for the National Invtiation Tournament at Madison Square Garden March 14-23.

Ken Norton of Manhattan College, chairman of the selection committee, said the draw would be made at a later date.

Previously named for the NIT event were Miami, Fla., Providence, Canisius, Memphis State, Marquette, Wichita, St. Louis, DePaul, LaSalle and Villanova.

St. Francis, with a 15-5 record, brings into the tournament the nation's 4th best record in defense, an average of 55.9 points yielded a game, and the 3rd best mark for team field goal percentage, .508.

A member of the team, Jim Rafferty, is among the individual leaders in field goal percentage with a mark of .619.

This is the 3rd NIT appearance for St. Francis, which finished 4th in 1956.

Fordham, coached by Johnny Bach, has a 15-7 record, with victories over Yale, Toledo, Columbia and Army. peted previously in 1943, when they finished 4th, 1958 and

Harley Cooper Is Lone Nebr. Victor

. . . IN GOLDEN GLOVES

Lincoln Star Special

Chicago — Harley Cooper was Nebraska's only quarterfinal survivor here Wednesday night as the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions concluded its first stanza of action.

Cooper garnered his second consecutive TKO of the meet when he disposed of Wichita's Jerry Cline at 1:32 of the first round with a single crunching left hook to the body.

Midwest entry Don Rudd, at 112-pounds lost a highly disputed split decision to Dave Lewis of Toledo. The 3rd entry, 118-pound Dale Blackfish failed to show up for the meet.

Cooper thus continued to be the talk of the heavyweights along with Kansas City's Ron Marsh, a transplanted Omahan and Wyce Westbrook, reigning National AAU champion from Cincinnati.

They will all return next Wednesday for the finals program for the crowning of the 8 national champs.

Marsh is hoping two severely cut eyes will heal. He came into the Wednesday program nursing a cut suffered on Tuesday to his right eye. In his battle with Cleveland's Bill Scott, Marsh's other eye was cut and at the end of the bout he was in a bath of blood.

However, the decision was not close as the former Omaha Tech prep star dominated his foe. Marsh is now a football and varsity swimming star at the University of Kansas.

Rudd and the Omaha officials were very upset with his loss to Lewis. The Norfolk entry got a full 60 point vote from one judge, but lost on the other cards 58-55 and 60-58.

Rudd continually carried the fight to Lewis.

VERBAL BOUT CONTINUED BY CLAY, LISTON

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Cassius Clay, whose gimmick is his gift of gab, said Wednesday heavyweight champion Sonny Liston has one, too.

"It's his look," Clay said. "He's big and ugly. That look would scare a man if he didn't know him. He scared Floyd Patterson with it.

"But he don't scare me. I'll eat him up."

Clay, whose goal is to win the title from Liston before next November, thus becoming the youngest heavyweight champ in history, said he ran into Liston last night in a Miami night club. The poetic conversation, he said, went like this:

Clay: "You're so ugly, I don't know whether to whip you or cage you. Me, I'm pretty — too pretty to be a fighter."

Liston: "That's right, I don't know whether to whip you or kiss you."

Clay: "There you go, popping off. I predicted that because I am so great, you would fall in eight. Now you're in a worse fix, because I've cut it to six."

Liston: "If I fell in six, it would be a fix."

Clay: "Keep talking and I'll cut it to five. How did you beat Patterson, with that look?"

Liston: "Not the look, the hook."

Golf Group Plans Policy On Amateurs

North Platte (UPI) — The Nebraska State Sand Greens Golf Association plans to lay down a policy regarding the amateur status of golfers who are given money in place of tournament prizes.

Bruce Gilliland, Kimball, secretary of the Association said the matter will be taken up March 2 at a North Platte meeting of Association directors and representatives of member clubs. Gilliland said the problem has generally been one of a lack of understanding.

The meeting also will discuss the statewide program of handicapping started last year. He said that so far only about 200 of the state's 3,200 sand greens golfers have handicaps.

The Association's annual sand greens tourney normally is held on the second Saturday and Sunday in July but because of a conflict with the grass greens tourney, the secretary said, the date probably will be changed this year. The tournament will be held at North Platte

Kan. State Holds Lead; Moves By KU, 74-60

Manhattan, Kan. (AP)— Kansas State stayed ahead of Colorado in the Big 8 basketball championship race by trouncing Kansas Wednesday, 74-60.

Kansas State's won-lost record now stands at 9-2, 7 percentage points better than Colorado's 9-3.

K-State led all the way, but did not start pulling away from the Jayhawks until the final 8 minutes. The Wildcats led at halftime 33-25.

Nolen Ellison was the top Kansas point-maker with 19.

Kansas State streaked to its biggest lead of the night, 72-53, with almost 2 minutes remaining.

Gary Mariott of K-State was the game's high scorer with 20 points, including 14 in the second half.

AP All-Big 8 List Revealed

Kansas City (AP)—Ken Charlton, Colorado's senior standout who has helped keep the Buffaloes in the race despite two painful knees, is the sole unanimous choice and only repeater on The Associated Press 1963 All-Big 8 basketball team chosen Wednesday.

Charlton is the league's top scorer with a 19.7 average despite his knee troubles. The All-Conference team has a combined scoring average of 92.4 a game, plus outstanding defensive and rebounding ability.

Willie Murrell of Kansas State, No. 2 scorer with 19.0; Jim Davis of Colorado, 6-8, the Big 8's best rebounder and a clutch scorer (13.0); and two senior backliners, Nolen Ellison of Kansas (15.7) and Marv Straw of Iowa State (15.0), joined Charlton on the first team.

Positions weren't designated by the writers, broadcasters and coaches who helped select the team. But as it turned out, the team included two backliners, a pivot man and two corner men.

Murrell is among the top rebounders in the league and the 6-6 junior college transfer was the key man in K-State's 6 straight victories which carried them to first place.

Scoring Record

The 6-6 Charlton, a senior, broke Burdette Haldorson's school career scoring record early in the season and averaged 25.8 the first 6 games on a knee that needed surgery before the season. He hurt his other knee against Kansas Feb. 9 but continued to come through when needed although his average dipped.

Ellison, shortest of the 5 at 6-1, was without equal as a clutch performer. His 32-point game in the 4-overtime victory over K-State in the tournament finals was one of the best clutch jobs in league annals.

Straw barely edged Oklahoma State's Larry Hawk (16.8) and Iowa State's Vince Brewer (15.3) for a berth on the first team.

Joining Hawk and Brewer on the second team were Ray Bob Carey, Missouri (15.9); James King, Oklahoma State (10.5) and an outstanding rebounder; and Gary Marriott, fiery K-State senior (12.5).

No. 3 Scorer

Carey, a junior, nudged George Unseld of Kansas and fleet little Eddie Evans of Oklahoma for a second team spot. The 6-7 Unseld, a sophomore, is the league's No. 3 scorer with 17.3 and Evans has 15.2.

Hawk, a spindly 6-2, was a strong choice over Unseld as Big 8 sophomore of the year. King was 3rd in the voting and teammate Gene Johnson 4th, giving Oklahoma State 3 of the top 4 spots.

Nebraska's Daryl Petsch, Ivan Grupe and Charlie Jones were given honorable mention.

The 1963 All-Big Eight basketball team:

FIRST TEAM

Ken Charlton, Colorado; 6 feet 6 inches, age 21, senior from Denver, Colo., Willie Murrell, Kansas State, 6-6, 21, junior, Taft, Okla., Jim Davis, Colorado, 6-8, 201, 21, junior, Muncie, Ind., Nolen Ellison, Kansas, 6-1, 185, 21, senior, Kansas City, Kan., Marv Straw, Iowa State, 6-4, 200, 21, senior, Lee, Ill.

SECOND TEAM

Ray Bob Carey, Missouri; Garry Marriott, Kansas State; James King, Oklahoma State; Vince Brewer, Iowa State; Larry Hawk, Oklahoma State.

HONORABLE MENTION

Roger Suttner, Al Peithman and Max Moss, Kansas State; Milt Mueller, George Parsons and Bric Lee, Colorado; Ivan Willey, Gene Johnson and James Cooper, Oklahoma State; Rich Froistad and Gary Kleven, Iowa State; Eddie Evans, Harvey Chaffin and Stan Morrison, Oklahoma; Ken Doughty and Bob Price, Missouri; George Unseld, Al Correll and Harry Gibson, Kansas; Daryl Petsch, Ivan Grupe and Charlie Jones, Nebraska.

Beaver Crossing Faces Hampton In Meet Finals

. . . CLASS D AT SEWARD

Seward — Hampton and Beaver Crossing advanced to the finals in the class D district basketball tournament here Wednesday night.

Hampton out distanced Dorchester, 59-52 and Beaver Crossing whipped Benedict, 66-42.

The finals will be played Friday night at 8:00.

Top-seeded Hampton tallied 20 points in the second quarter to pull away from smaller Dorchester. The rebounding of 6-4 Gary Jones and shooting of Jerry Quiring was too much for Dorchester.

Dorchester stayed even with Hampton in scoring in the second half, but couldn't catch up.

Beaver Crossing had no trouble with Benedict, getting as much hot shooting out of reserves as it did from starters.

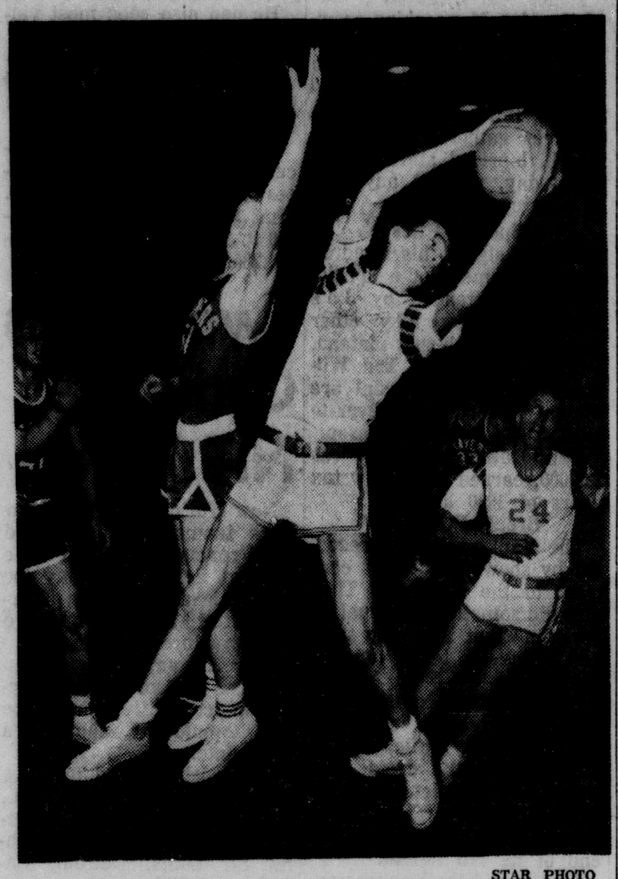

Friday's final game will be the 3rd meeting of the season between Hampton and Beaver Crossing. Beaver Crossing won the other contests.

Champion Polk Gets First Win

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Polk — Defending Class D champion Polk Wednesday night started on the road back to the state basketball tournament.

Cheered by a highly partisan crowd, the champs humbled Rising City, 78-31, in opening district 7 play.

Big Max Kroger blazed the way for Polk with 27 points.

The only starter from last year's successful quint, Kroger also grabbed 23 rebounds.

With less than a minute gone in the 3rd quarter, coach Jim Karloff swept the bench. No Polk starter saw action in the final period.

"This kind of game is no indication of strength," said the winning coach, whose teams have topped 90 of 110 opponents in the past 5 years.

An aggressive Silver Creek team smothered Clarks with an air-tight defense, 51-33.

Doug Cowgill, a 5-7 guard, led the hungry defenders with several key steals. He also hit timely field goals from 20 to 25 feet outside.

Frank Podraza paced Silver Creek's scoring with 15 points, while doing his share of rebounding.

The nightcap saw Hordville thrash Shelby, 81-51.

The winners scored almost at will while shackling the Shelby shooters. More than 4 minutes passed before the losers could even score.

Polk	22	24	20	12	—78

DeWitt Wins; Western Upset By Alexandria

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

Fairbury — Western was handed the dubious honor of being the first ranked high school basketball team to hit the sidelines.

Coach Sam Bell's 7th ranked class D team felt the sting of a 48-46 loss to Alexandria in the semifinals of the district tournament here.

Another rated small school club, DeWitt, had its hands full before making Beatrice St. Joseph its 16th consecutive victim, 47-32.

The tournament here is the only D meet in the state with 2 rated clubs. DeWitt is 5th.

Sophomore Al Schwab was the Alexandria pacesetter, hitting 20 points and 5 straight fielders in the second half when Western made a desperate bid for victory.

After trailing by as much as 9 points, Western pulled to a 43-43 tie with 3:07 left. But Schwab was on hand with a bucket for a 2-point lead. Western's Larry Weishahn countered, but Jim Harrold tossed in the deciding fielder for Alexandria at 1:12.

Beatrice St. Joe, twice before a loser to DeWitt, went to a man to man defense and nearly had another upset.

The two teams played even for 3 quarters — except for 4 more DeWitt points in the 2nd stanza.

Then Coach Yoekel's well-balanced team broke to a 15-4 advantage in the last 8 minutes to salt away victory No. 16.

Junior Doug Tietjen had 17 points to pace DeWitt. Jim Holtmeier had 12 and spearheaded the final quarter barrage.

Schwab's 20 points was the night's best. Alexandria (18-4) and Dewitt will clash Friday night at 8:00 p.m. for the championship.

Alexandria	13	13	14	8	—48
Western	8	11	16	11	—46

Winners high: Al Schwab, 20; losers high: Mike Carney, 11.

DeWitt	8	14	10	15	—47
Beatrice St. Joe	8	10	10	4	—32

Winners high: Doug Tietjen, 17, losers high: Don Buckholz, 14.

Lumpe Holdout From Athletics

Bradenton, Fla. (AP) — Second baseman Jerry Lumpe made an appearance in the Kansas City Athletics' spring training camp Wednesday but only in the role of a spectator.

Lumpe has not signed his contract and said his salary dispute with the club still involves a substantial amount of money.

"I suppose I should have stayed at home until I get this settled," Lumpe commented. "But I kind of got itchy feet."

Limpe was originally asking about $35,000 and the A's are believed to have offered him approximately $30,000.

Arapahoe, H. Center Take Wins

McCook — In Class C district tourney play here Wednesday night, Hayes Center and Arapahoe took wins in the semi-finals to advance to finals play Friday.

Hayes Center capitalized on Grant's cold 4th quarter to take a 39-32 win. And in the second game, Arapahoe took a strong lead in the 3rd period in which Wauneta scored only 3 points, winning the semi-final game, 64-49.

At the halfway mark, Wauneta trailed by only 4 points, but its cold 3rd period which netted only 3 points gave Arapahoe a 42-27 lead.

Sparking Arapahoe to its win, was Doug Shutz and Dan Haussler, each sinking 20 points.

In the Hayes Center-Grant game, a cold 4th period for Grant proved to be the dictating factor. Grant was outscored by Hayes Center in the last period, 12-4, a margin 1 point greater than the margin by which Grant lost.

Tim May paced Hayes Center to the win with 13 points and while Mick Mizner paced the losers with an identical score, 13.

Hayes Center and Arapahoe will square off for the tourney crown 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Hayes Center	10	6	11	12	39

"LONGER UP AND DOWN"

New York Mets' manager Casey Stengel uses Gil Hodges as a model during a lecture on the new strike zone at the Mets' camp in St. Petersburg, Florida. The Stengelese explanation: "Far as the plate is concerned, it's not any longer. It's just vertically." The confused listeners (from left) are pitcher Roger Craig, shortstop Bruce Fitzpatrick and Bob Catton.

Chester Wins In Last-Quarter Effort

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Hebron — Coach Rueben Schleifer's Chester Bulldogs staved off a last-quarter desperation effort by Edgar to highlight the opening of Class D district tourney action here.

Twice in the last 4 minutes, Edgar edged within 4 points but finally fell short, 56 to 48. Ruskin had less trouble handling Hardy, 50-39, and Guide Rock rolled over Byron, 58-22.

A scrappy Edgar entered the 4th quarter with a 9-point deficit, but fouled and pressed hard until fouls took their toll in both manpower and counters. Superior second-quarter rebounding helped the Bulldogs turn a 13-13 tie into a 26-20 halftime advantage.

A virtual scoring dual between the winner's Larry Vorderstrasse and Edgar's Mike Gass ended 23-22 in the latter's favor.

Handicapped by the illness of regular center Denny Sweet, Hardy split the season with Ruskin at 2-2.

The Hansen brothers, Richard and Larry, piled up 10 and 9 points to pace the closely-packed Ruskin winners.

Thursday's semi-finals will match top-seeded Lawrence, holder of a first-round bye against Guide Rock. The other Saturday night finalist will be decided between Ruskin and Chester.

Chester	13	13	13	17	56
Edgar	13	7	10	18	48

Winners high: Larry Vorderstrasse, 22; losers high: Mike Gass, 23.

Ruskin	14	14	9	13	50
Hardy	12	4	7	16	39

Winners high: Rich Hoins, 15; losers high: Donald Kuhlmann, 10.

Nationwide Run Proposed As Olympic Fund-Raising Campaign

Philadelphia (AP)— A fellow from suburban Bucks County, Pa., thinks a 7½ minute mile would be more helpful to the U.S. Olympic team than a sub four minute one — financially that is.

Amor John Mason, known familiarly as Jack, has come up with an idea for raising much needed money for Uncle Sam's Olympians.

Mason, who carried in a torch during halftime ceremonies of the 1956 Villanova-Florida State football game, proposes a nationwide run with runners paying 5 dollars each for the privilege of carrying a torch.

He says that although it's 3,000 miles from New York to Los Angeles, the torch could be zig-zagged in any direction. His only rule is that runners should be able to run the mile in 7½ minutes.

Mason formerly lived in Australia and was invited to be one of the runners to carry the torch in the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne. He returned to the U.S., however, and then couldn't raise the funds to return for the torch run.

He feels sure that there are enough athletes and former athletes willing to participate in an Olympic fund-raising campaign of this type. Since the U.S. government doesn't pick up the check for our Olympic team expenses, Mason says the public should be willing to help foot the great expense which will be incurred in Tokyo next year.

How much money would the stunt raise?

Mason says he isn't sure of the total, but using his own country as an illustration, he says if the torch was carried for 12 hours it would net $600. He bases his figure on 120 runs of about 6 minutes each. Multiply this by the thousands of counties around the country and you get an idea of the tremendous possibilities the idea has, he says.

Robinson Signs; Gets In On Long Workout

Sarasota, Fla. (AP)— Floyd Robinson, Chicago White Sox left fielder, signed his 1963 contract in time to take part Wednesday in the team's extra long workout.

Contract terms were not disclosed but it was estimated that Robinson's salary will be $25,000.

Shubert, Stella, Elk Creek Win Openers At Falls City

. . . CLASS D DISTRICT

Falls City—Shubert, Stella and Elk Creek won 1st round victories in the class D district cage meet here Wednesday night.

Stella needed a 4th period rally to gain a 49-46 victory over Table Rock in the closest game of the night.

Trailing by 24-19 at half and 36-33 entering the final canto, Stella potted 16 points to Table Rock's 10 in the decisive last quarter to gain a comeback win.

John Bank led the winners with 18, but Table Rock's John Diehm totaled 19 for game honors.

In the evening opener, Shubert jumped to a 17-10 intermission lead, then added 22 points in the 3rd period to gain a 67-51 win over Bratton Union.

Tom Beutler had 17 for Shubert, and Leroy Koehler totaled 17 for Bratton Union.

In the night's finale, Lavelle Hitzman paced Elk Creek to a 47-39 victory over Nemaha.

Hitzman totaled 22 for the winners, high for the night. Claude Nichols led Nemaha scorers with 13.

Talmage, Johnson Eke Out Victories In Class D Meet

. . . CHARITY SHOT SAVES TALMAGE

Johnson — Al Winkelhake sunk a charity toss with 3 seconds remaining to give Talmage a 44-43 victory over Sterling in the semifinals of the class D district here Wednesday night.

Johnson edged Lourdes Central of Nebraska City 51-48 in the second thriller of the evening.

Talmage and Sterling were tied 20-20 at half and 30-30 going into the final period.

Al Winkelhake and teammate Charles Braehm tied for game scoring honors with 14 points apiece.

Johnson held a slim 2 point lead, 12-10 over Lourdes Central at the first quarter mark, and spread the margin to 7 points once in the second period before settling for a 23-18 halftime lead.

Both clubs potted 16 in the 3rd canto enabling Johnson to maintain its 5 point margin.

Early in the last period, Johnson raced to an 11-point margin, but a Lourdes rally almost turned the tide as the Nebraska City team outscored the Johnson team, 14-12, in the final canto.

Paul Mullen led Lourde Central's scoring with 26 points, taking top scoring honors for the night. Dave Burr and Ken Haack each totaled 14 for the winners.

'Hot Cargo' Clauses Of Teamsters Hit

Washington (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board ordered the Teamsters Union Wednesday to cancel trucking industry labor contract clauses which the board found were designed to maintain illegal "hot cargo" agreements.

The 5-man board ruled unanimously that Teamsters Union contracts with truckers in 22 states contain provisions so exempting employes from discipline that their employers can be forced to cease doing business with other employers with whom the union may be at odds.

The Teamsters immediately filed notice of appeal in the federal courts here. The union contended the NLRB erred in interpreting the law and said further the law itself is invalid because it exempts several industries.

Long Fight

Trucking is an industry heavily dependent on cooperative interchange of freight to insure fast, safe delivery. The Teamsters Union has been in and out of the courts for years in behalf of labor contract provisions designed to let the union use pressure to prevent one employer from dealing with another.

The union has been accustomed to putting a "hot cargo" label on goods from firms with which the union has labor controversies. Congress in 1959 passed legislation outlawing labor contract provisions in which the employer commits himself to cease handling, using, selling or transporting products of another employer.

Two separate decisions Wednesday concerned Patton Warehouse, Inc., Columbus, Ohio, and the Teamsters' Central States Drivers Council, covering 14 states, in one case and the Brown Transport Corp., Waynesboro, Ga., and the Southern Conference of Teamsters, covering 8 states, in another case.

Refuse to Sign

The Patton and Brown firms refused to sign new "protection of rights" clauses divided by the Teamsters after the 1959 law went into effect. In disputes that followed, the Teamsters brought their "protection" contracts with other employers to bear, inducing Teamsters' members not to handle shipping from Patton and Brown.

The board found the clauses allow the union to demand disciplinary immunity for employes refusing to handle goods coming from a neutral firm. Speaking of certain language in the protection clauses demanded of the Patton firm, the board said:

"What the union sought was the effectuation of its policy against handling struck goods or equipment. The means, direct or indirect, by which this end is to be accomplished, is tainted by the illegality of its object."

Cite Example

The board cited one standard Teamsters contract proviso under which the employer agrees to "refrain from using the services of any person who does not observe the wages, hours and conditions of employment established by labor unions having jurisdiction over the types of services performed."

The board, finding this illegal, said it "dictates to the employer those persons with whom he shall be permitted to do business."

Another "hazardous work" clause, demanded by the union from Brown transport, would bind an employer to pay triple wages and increased benefits of all types to workers found to be required to make deliveries or pickups to an employer involved in a labor dispute.

The board said this was also an illegal "hot cargo" proposal because it amounted to "economic coercion" to accomplish a boycott. The NLRB said it was the Teamsters, not their employer, creating a hazard by seeking to isolate other employers.

Pessimism Cast Over Ban Talks

Geneva (AP)—The Russians seemed Wednesday to be moving away from the idea of any international control of a nuclear test ban treaty. A feeling of pessimism grew within the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Premier Khrushchev announced in Moscow the Soviet Union will not go beyond his offer to permit two or 3 on-site inspections a year on Soviet soil, an offer Western authorities consider entirely inadequate.

The United States and Britain want 7.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin carried the ball in the Geneva conference.

He defined proposed automatic seismic monitoring stations as nothing more than auxiliaries for policing a test ban.

And, whereas the United States has suggested 7 of these robots should be put on Russian territory, Tsarapkin said the Soviet Union would admit only 3.

William C. Foster, the chief U.S. negotiator, sought to break the conference stalemate by getting the test ban discussions referred again to the American-British-Russian subcommittee for detailed negotiations. This idea won support from India, Brazil and Italy, but drew no immediate response from the Russians.

Tsarapkin made it clear that Moscow does not accept the Western concept that robot boxes, filled with recording instruments, would form an independent part of a treaty's enforcement system.

Hastings Man Crushed By Car

Hastings (AP)— A 52-year-old Hastings man, John A. Wallin, was killed Wednesday afternoon when he was crushed beneath a car on which he was working.

Authorities said the jack holding the car apparently slipped. Officers were told that Wallin, a construction worker, was repairing the auto for a friend.

He is survived by his widow and 3 sons.

U.S., Russia To Resume Talks On Berlin

Washington (AP) — The State Department announced Wednesday the United States and Russia will soon resume their lengthy and so far unsuccessful talks aiming for a Berlin settlement.

Press Officer Lincoln White said the U.S. Ambassador to Moscow, Foy Kohler brought a Soviet proposal to revive the discussions with him when he returned to Washington at the end of January. Kohler delivered the U.S. acceptance in Moscow last Monday.

Where the talks will be held and who will represent the two sides has not been decided, White said.

The U.S.-Soviet dialogue on how to solve the Berlin-Germany issue began after the June 1961 meeting between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev. Talks have been held since in Moscow, New York and Washington. They have been in abeyance since last October's Cuban missile crisis.

White said that the United States consulted its allies and got "no objections to resumption of the talks." He reaffirmed the position that the discussions are not formal negotiations but exploratory sessions to see whether a basis for settlement can be found.

Dillion, Republicans Clash On Debt Ceiling

Washington (AP)— Kennedy administration spokesmen seeking an increase in the public debt ceiling ran into Republican charges Wednesday that they should have cut back on spending.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Budget Director Kermit Gordon told a House Committee that it was evident as long ago as last October that revenues would not come up to expectations.

But Dillon said Congress, which had adjourned less than a month earlier, had voted expenditures, including an accelerated public works program to fight unemployment.

Byrnes Charges

But Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, said the circumstances "don't put you in a very good light. You did not put out the revised revenue estimates until after Congress had adjourned."

Dillon told the committee the temporary $308-billion ceiling on the national debt must be extended because "the bills are coming in; they must be paid."

The Treasury estimates the debt will stand Thursday at about $302.5 billion. Under present law, the ceiling drops to $305 billion April 1, $300 billion June 25 and $285 billion July 1. The Treasury forecasts a debt of $307.2 billion June 15.

Seek Extension

Congress now is being asked to extend the $308-billion limit through June 30, but Dillon already has said another request is coming for a raise to a new high —probably in the neighborhood of $320 billion.

Dillon, attributing the ceiling-bumping deficit mostly to an unforeseen drop in government revenues, said he had "the very definite impression" when the $308-billion figure was set that "if revenues did not come up to expectations Congress would like to look at the matter before the President canceled a lot of programs."

Gordon said cutbacks made during what he called the "debt limit squeeze" in 1957 may have aggravated the subsequent recession and run up defense costs by forcing what he termed inefficient start and stop operations.

She's Taking English

Lusaka, Northern Rhodesia (AP) —An African mother of 8 and grandmother of 30 children plods every evening two miles to school to learn English because, she explains, "I want to talk to people." One schoolmate of Mrs. Anna Chilumbi is her 18-year-old granddaughter. Mrs. Chilumbi doesn't know her own age.

RAIL CLERKS TO BATTLE STRIKE BUSTING ORDER

San Francisco (UPI) — The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks said Wednesday they planned court action to fight an injunction that Tuesday postponed their scheduled strike against Southern Pacific.

The union, which had planned a walkout against the west's largest railroad for 8 p.m. CST, Tuesday night, was still uncertain as to the exact procedure to be taken but indicated it would go to federal court to try to have the restraining order lifted.

However, a spokesman for the union said no court action would be undertaken Wednesday.

Free Textbooks Set

Mexico City (AP) — Mexico plans government printing of textbooks totalling 30 million a year for free issuance, reports the schoolbook commission chief, Martin Luis Guzman.

Lent Opened By Pope With Ash Wednesday

Vatican City (AP) — Kneeling in his private chapel, Pope John XXIII received a smudge of ashes on his forehead like millions of Roman Catholics around the world Wednesday to mark the opening of Lent.

The 81-year-old pontiff said afterward that the ashes — symbol of humility and penance —reminded him that he, "like all men, will return to dust."

Then, Wednesday night, he broadcast his Lenten message, calling upon Roman Catholics to devote their prayers and Lenten penance for the success of the Vatican Ecumenical Council which resumes here Sept. 8. It recessed in December.

'Make Progress'

"We are now entered upon Lent, the first Lent after the commencement of the council," the Pope said. "It is the period most indicated to make progress in acquiring virtue and especially the practice of charity towards God and towards men.

"The sublime harmonies of revelation stand out in greater relief during the time of a council, which is, as it were, its open book . . .

"It is, therefore, the council which gives the tone to this year's Lent, by stressing especially the task of every good Christian to live the precept of charity, rather than merely to contemplate and rejoice at this new flowering.

The Pope reminded Catholics that the church, in instituting its Lenten practices, "does not lead her children to mere external practices, but to serious tasks of love and generosity for the good of their breathren."

Pope John officiated at an early morning ceremony in his chapel, marking the opening of the 40-day Lenten period.

HOW GOOD IS PLYMOUTH'S NEW WARRANTY?

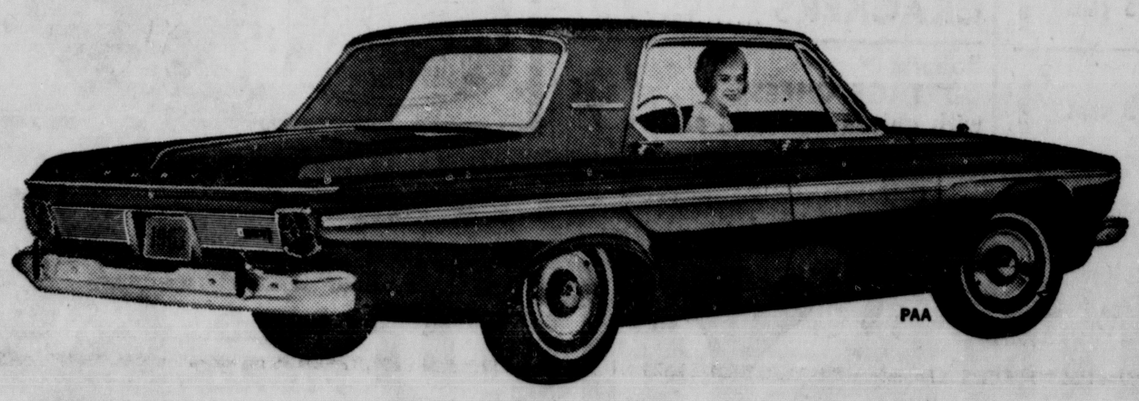

*Facts about our 5-year or 50,000-mile warranty

DOES IT INCLUDE THE COST OF LABOR?
Yes. There is absolutely no charge for labor and parts. For the entire life of the warranty, should any defect in material or workmanship occur on the parts covered by the warranty, it will not cost you one cent to have it corrected.

DOES IT COVER EXPENSIVE PARTS?
Absolutely! It covers the major power train components—the engine block and its internal parts, the automatic transmission and its internal parts, the rear axle—parts that would cost plenty to replace or repair.

IS IT TRANSFERABLE WHEN YOU SELL THE CAR?
Yes. As long as the car has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Plymouth-Valiant Certified Car Care schedules, the warranty can be passed on to the new owner. Think what that will mean to resale value of your car!

MUST YOU SPEND MORE FOR MAINTENANCE?
No. All that is required is the normal care that most car owners would usually give their car. Only one chassis lubrication is required for the entire life of the warranty. Other maintenance consists of inspections at reasonable intervals.

5 YEAR OR 50,000 MILE WARRANTY

*Your Authorized Plymouth-Valiant Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair, without charge for required parts or labor, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings, provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Plymouth-Valiant Certified Car Care schedules.

Reds Halt Dominican Inaugural Parade

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (UPI)—Rifle-swinging military police charged a mob of pro-Communist demonstrators screaming anti-U.S. slogans Wednesday as the Dominican Republic inaugurated its first constitutional president in 34 years. U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson witnessed the outburst.

The inaugural parade of Juan Bosch, 53, was broken up by the anti-American demonstration by about 100 youths who were identified as sympathizers of Venezuelas's Communist Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN), the group which recently hijacked a Venezuelan freighter.

Johnson, Venezuelan President Romula Betancourt and other foreign dignitaries were hustled from the parade reviewing stand by security guards to the safety of a nearby building when police and the youths clashed in the street.

Most of the youths — chanting anti-U.S. slogan — were wearing gray sweatshirts apparently as a uniform. At least 10 bleeding from head wounds were taken to jail. The others scattered.

The remainder of the inaugural military parade was suspended after the clash.

The pro-Communist youths earlier threw sand into the faces of Venezuelan marines marching in the parade, but the Venezuelans, with military discipline, remained in ranks and refused to be provoked by the insults of the youths.

Bosch was reported to have remained on the reviewing stand until order was restored.

The clash occurred on palm-lined George Washington Aveinsults.

Betancourt was a target of many of the youths' shouted sults.

In his inaugural address Bosch pledged to defend the country's newly gained freedom and promote economic and social progress "to give the Dominican peoples a place under the sun among the advanced countries of America."

An intellectual whose leftist political philosophy has aroused some concern in conservative circles, Bosch took his oath of office in the congress chamber. The ceremony was witnessed by 3 Latin American presidents, U.S Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Puerto Rican Gov. Luis Munoz Marin and other notables.

In his 20-minute inaugural speech, Bosch reminded Dominicans they owe a debt of gratitude to the visitors who helped their fight for freedom. He said the presence of so many notables demonstrated the hemisphere's "interest in and love for" the country's transition to democracy.

While pledging faith in the inter-American system, Bosch strengthened belief his regime will follow an independent foreign policy not unlike the "neutralism" of Brazil and Mexico.

AEC Tries To Correct Impression

. . ABOUT N-SHIP

Washington (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission sought Wednesday to try to correct "an erroneous impression that has gotten abroad that something has suddenly gone terribly wrong" with the power plant of the $53-million N. S. Savannah, the world's first atomic-powered merchant ship.

A spokesman said AEC General Manager A. R. Lvedecke has asked the head of the commission's Reactor Safeguards Committee to issue a "clarifying statement" in the wake of a controversy stirred up Tuesday by a committee letter to the AEC.

In that letter, Dr. David B. Hall of AEC's Los Alamos scientific laboratory and chairman of the safeguards committee, said his group could not approve further operation of the Savannah until an extensive overhaul — now under way at Galveston, Tex. — is completed, and a full review of the ship's operational status is made.

The letter drew fire from a shipyard official at Galveston.

And an AEC spokesman said a number of changes in the Savannah, recommended in the safety committee's letterl were "already in the process of being effected or planned for completion" at the time the letter was made public.

Highway 2 Is Rerouted West Of City

The state is rerouting Neb. 2 in the Lincoln area, but no construction is involved.

The action is part of several Nebraska highway number changes announced Wednesday by Deputy State Engineer G. C. Strobel.

Starting at 10th and O, the new route will run west on O (U.S. 6) to the junction of Neb. 15 approximately 3 miles north of Milford.

From there, Neb. 2 will go north over Neb. 15 to the junction with U.S. 34 southeast of Seward.

The Lincoln area change grows out of the relocation of Neb. 15 north through Milford and a desire to simplify some Interstate signing problems.

Other highway redesignations affect Kearney and the Scottsbluff area.

3 Omahans Apply For Charter Of 'Westwood Bank'

An application to charter a new bank in Omaha has been filed with the State Banking Department, Director Ralph Misko announced Wednesday.

The new bank would be known as the "Westwood Bank of Omaha." It would be located on the southwest corner of 120th and Center at the Westwood Mall shopping center.

The applicants are John W. Delehant, Millard R. Seldin and W. B. Hargleroad Jr., all of Omaha.

They proposed capital funds totaling $500,000 for the bank. It would include $200,000 capital stock, $200,000 surplus and $100,000 undivided profits.

'Tired' Market's Loss Is Sharp

New York (AP) — What brokers called a "tired" stock market moved unevenly most of Wednesday, then sank to a sharp loss in the final hour.

Although trading quickened while prices were sinking, volume was a light 3.7 million shares compared with 3.67 million Tuesday.

The setback, the second sharp decline this week, was generally regarded as part of the corrective process to be logically expected following the big advance from late October to mid-February.

The Dow Jones industrial average dropped 4.48 to 670.80.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.5 to 254.6 with industrials off 2.5, rails off .6, and utilities off .6.

An estimated $2 billion was clipped from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the AP average.

Of 1,299 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by the wide margin of 715 to 341. New Highs for 1962-63 totaled 30 and new lows 6.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks declined and 5 advanced.

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1 million shares compared with 1.03 million Tuesday.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Grains Steady, Soybeans Up

Chicago (AP)—Prices of most commodities in the grain futures market scarcely budged Wednesday in quiet dealings but old crop soybeans were in good demand late and finished well ahead.

Nearly all grain contracts were within minor fractions of previous closes throughout the session on a draggy mixed trade.

At the finish, wheat was ½ cent a bushel lower to ⅜ higher, March $2.05⅞-¾; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.18; oats ⅛-¼ higher, March 73½ cents; rye ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, March $1.33⅝-¾; soybeans ⅛-1⅞ higher, March $2.63¼-⅛.

Potential Mont. Discovery Leads Oil Developments

Denver (AP)—Another potential Devonian discovery in northeastern Montana was a top development in Rocky Mountain-High Plains oil fields last week, Petroleum Information said.

A drillstem test recovered oil from a Placid Oil Co. wildcat, 1 Trimble, NE NE 8-30N-46E, in Roosevelt County. This is the most westerly indication of oil production within the United States portion of the Williston basin, which extends into Canada.

Other developments last week included:

Nebraska — Antelope Gas Products drilled to 6,088 feet and ran a drillstem test at 1 Christiansen, SW NE 5-16N-55W, a scheduled J sand wildcat in western Kimball County. Sample to P of D sand is at 6,080 feet. The wildcat is 1¾ miles north of Schmoeller Field and 2½ miles south of McMurry Field.

$279,445 Paid For 3,200 Acres Wheat, Grassland

Bushnell — Thirty-two hundred acres of wheat and grassland sold on the auction block here for a total of $279,445, according to Vic Asmus, auctioneer.

The land was sold by the Mintken Land Co., owned by the heirs of Frank E. Mintken, former Kimball County resident.

It was the second large land sale to be held in Bushnell in the past two years — the first being the Panhandle Land and Livestock Co. sale two years ago, when more than 14,000 acres were sold for approximately $785,000.

The Mintken land was in 10 tracts and was sold without improvements. Prices ranged from $56 to $140 per acre, Asmus said.

Homes Are Damaged; One Person Injured In Ecuador Earthquake

Quito, Ecuador (AP) — One person was injured and many houses damaged in an earthquake which shook Central Ecuador and the big port city of Guayaquil Tuesday night.

Hardest hit was Ambato, a provincial capital in the Andes, where walls of adobe houses crumbled. The mountain area has suffered from intermittent quakes, the most severe of which killed thousands in 1949.

1,500 Nevada Site Workers Out On Strike

Nevada Test Site, Nev. (AP) The Atomic Energy Commission reported that about 1,500 workers struck Wednesday in protest to the presence of non-union labor at the test site.

Workers put up a sign at the highway junction about 5 miles from the main gate which read, "non-union labor on site."

About 100 persons stood by talking. They were not picketing.

The AEC said that all 300 electricians failed to show up for work and were joined by workers from other crafts.

The strikers constitute about 20% of the craft workers employed by the Reynolds Electrical and Engineering Co.

Last month a strike by 500 office workers shut down the site for several days.

The work crews are employed by the Standard Construction Co., first major non-union firm awarded a contract at the site in recent years.

The walkout came as labor leaders, contractors and mediators met at a special hearing of the Nevada Test and Space Site Construction Labor Board in Washington, D.C.

The board is investigating reports of uneconomic practices at the site, as well as questions of reductiion of subsistence pay and changes in reporting points.

Ciudad Ojeda Bank Robbed; Blame FALN

Caracas, Venezuela (AP) — Ten gunmen held up a bank in the rich Lake Maracaibo oil district Wednesday and escaped with $80,000. Police said they suspected pro-Castro terrorists.

The robbery at Ciudad Ojeda was the latest in a series blamed on the communistic Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN) trying to overthrow the Betancourt government.

In a night raid, terrorists ransacked the Caracas Office of Civil Aeronautics in the headquarters of the Ministry of Communications.

Two time bombs were discovered and disposed of in widely separated parts of the country. One was ticking under a big bridge.

FALN commandos seized a Caracas radio station Tuesday and forced the announcer to read a statement threatening continued "harassment against the puppet and traitor government of Romulo Betancourt."

Production Falls On Soviet Farm

Moscow (AP) — The farming community of Kuban on the River Don is supposed to be one of the best in the nation but Pravda said Wednesday production has fallen for the past 3 years.

The Communist Party newspaper said hundreds of thousands of pigs died last year for lack of feed and proper care. Milk yield fell off despite an increase in the number of cows — largely because managers can't keep milkmaids down on the farm. Pravda said only about half the milkmaids stay more than a year or two.

REFERENDUM ON MALAYSIA IS SAID NOT THANT PLAN

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—A U.N. spokesman said Wednesday Secretary General U Thant has not proposed a referendum in British Borneo territories to determine if the people there want to join Malaya and Singapore in the projected federation of Malaysia.

There were reports in London earlier this week that Thant was considering such a step to ease strained relations in the area. Indonesia strongly opposes the Malaysia idea and supports rebellious elements in the Borneo territories who want independence.

Explosion And Fire Rock Missile Plant

Ponoma, Calif. (AP)—An explosion and fire rocked a missile test center in the General Dynamics plant in Pomona Wednesday night, injuring 12 employes, several seriously.

C. D. Cornell, assistant to the president, said the blast occurred while scientists were shock-testing a missile.

The plant is 30 miles east of Los Angeles.

Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.

"It was like someone dropped a 105 mm. howitzer shell," a witness said. "It blew the hell out of the test area."

The injured were taken to Pomona Valley Hospital in Pomona.

Cornell said the type of missile and the exact nature of the tests were classified and could not be discussed.

The plant is the tactical guided missile division of General Dynamics. It does research, development and production work on the Terrier, Tartar, Redeye and Mauler surface to air missiles.

The explosion was heard throughout the city of Pomona.

Cornell said the plant's fire department quickly put out the fire.

"Most of the damage was from the explosion," he said. Buildings adjacent to the test area were not seriously damaged, Cornell said. They are windowless and constructed of reinforced concrete.

Cornell said most of the injuries were from burns and fragments of flying debris.

Negro Is Conductor

Sydney, Australia (UPI)—Dean Dixon, 48, New York-born Negro, has been named musical director and conductor of the Sydney Symphony Orchestra, it was announced. Doxon was musical director and principal conductor of the Gothenburg Symphony Orchestra for several years.

Crash Injury Slight

Mrs. Ida Johnson of 801 No. 44th suffered a bumped lip about midnight Wednesday in a two-car collision at 1st and West O.

Mrs. Johnson's car and one driven by Larry Schleiger, 18, of 911 Garfield, collided. Mrs. Johnson was westbound on O, Schlieger eastbound.

Radio Hints New Strike Hits Castro

Pompano Beach, Fla. (AP)—The Sun-Sentinel says broadcasts from rebel and government stations in Cuba indicate a new anti-Castro group successfully executed sea and air strikes on the island's north coast.

The group involved was identified only as "the Junta", said to be unrelated to other organizations combating Fidel Castro's regime.

The newspaper said radio monitors in Dade and Broward Counties heard broadcasts that a single airplane early Wednesday bombed military installations near Matanzas, 50 miles east of Havana, and that a boat put 14 guerrillas ashore on the Cuban north coast Tuesday at a point not specified.

One broadcast, purportedly from the guerrilla group, said the air raid "left the place in a mess."

The newspaper said one of Castro's radio stations broadcast a condemnation of the air raiders as "American gangsters avenging the capture of 8 pirates" Saturday and said some of the latter would be executed Thursday or Friday.

DOGS FACE DEATH

These two Irish Setters have been condemned to death in the will of their late mistress, Miss Ida M. Capers of Pittsburgh, Pa. She died Jan. 26. The executor of her estate said Miss Capers took excellent care of the female dogs and feared a new owner might not treat them as well. Shown with the dogs is Thomas Miller, a kennel owner who is caring for the animals. He and lawyers are trying to find a legal way to save the dogs.

School Chief At McCook Resigns

McCook (UPI) — The resignation of Fred Bremer, 40, superintendent of schools at McCook and president of McCook Junior College was announced Wednesday by Board of Education President Dave Coolidge.

Bremer, who has held the post since he succeeded the late Gov. Ralph G. Brooks in the position in November, 1958, will make the resignation effective June 30, he said, but would consent to serve longer if necessary to help his successor.

Bremer said he had been awarded a $5,000 grant from the University of Texas for graduate work in junior college administration.

Madison—The Rev. Clarence A. Stenbeck, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church here, announced to his congregation that he had decided to decline a call to St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Malcolm.

Search For Snake Delays Denver Flight

Denver (AP)—A 6-foot black snake got loose in the passenger compartment of a Continental Air Lines jet plane Wednesday night and delayed a flight to Chicago for an hour.

An airline spokesman said a passenger reported the snake had escaped from a sack during the flight from Chicago. The sack had been placed inside a box.

About 50 passengers waited to board the plane for the return flight while employes searched for the non-poisonous reptile. It was found behind a fluorescent light above the baggage rack after paneling was removed.

The passenger who was not identified, said he was bringing the snake to Denver from Florida for a friend.

Population Of Alcatraz Now Down To 64

San Francisco (AP) — The Alcatraz Federal Prison population was reduced to 64 Wednesday.

The government moved 38 to other prisons Tuesday in gradually shutting down the grim "rock" in San Francisco Bay. Alcatraz had 260 convicts a year ago, most of them incorrigible.

Th Federal Bureau of Prisons has a target date of July 1 for emptying the prison.

Mickey Cohen, Los Angeles racketeer serving 15 years for income tax evasion, was among 11 transferred Tuesday to the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga.

Others went to Leavenworth, Kan., Springfield, Mo., Lewisburg, Pa., and institutions in the District of Columbia.

Group Opposes Change In Vice Detail Leadership

Omaha (AP)—The executive committee of the Omaha area Council of Churches said Wednesday this is no time to change the leadership of Omaha's vice detail.

"Such a change would be interpreted as opposition to the vigorous enforcement of the law," the 16-member committee said in a statement.

The church organization issued its statement after another attack on veteran vice detail Capt. Theodore Janing.

An attorney, Thomas Kelley, appeared before the City Council Tuesday and complained that his clients were being held too long before being released on bonds.

A similar complaint was made earlier following a raid on an alleged strip-tease show at Aviation Post 179 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Major Dworak has ordered an investigation.

No Flu Reports Sent State Yet —Health Chief

If Sidney or any other Nebraska communities are experiencing outbreaks of influenza, the reports have not yet reached the State Health Department, Dr. E. A. Rogers, director, said Wednesday.

He was asked about published reports of heavy absenteeism at Sidney from flu, measles, chicken pox, mumps and colds.

Reporting of this type illness to the Health Department is not legally required although doctors and other health officials have long been requested to volunteer the reports.

Dr. Rogers said some Asian flu can be suspected, but it takes laboratory tests positively to indentify this type of influenza.

Ten Trainmen Give Blood To Friend's Mom

Omaha (UPI) —Ten men from 5 Midwestern states gave blood at the Red Cross Blood Center Wednesday to the mother of a friend.

None had ever met Mrs. Lillie Bunstock. She was hospitalized in early January at Immanuel Hospital here and was just released this past week.

Mrs. Bunstock continues to receive twice weekly blood transfusions as an out-patient. Her ailment was not described.

The donors were all members of the grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. They had been holding meetings here.

Among the committee members was R. L. Bunstock of McCook. He said the men offered to give blood when they heard of his mother's frequent use of blood.

"None of them had ever met my mother, so their kindness is doubly appreciated by both Mother and me," Bunstock said.

Joint Naming Asked

London (AP) — A special British-Malayan commission recommends that Queen Elizabeth II and the princely supreme head of the Malay Federation should jointly name the first chief of state for Malaysia. It is to be formed Aug. 31 of Malaya, Singapore and the 3 British Borneo areas.

Myers Unaware Of Plan To Move NRTC Quarters

Omaha (AP) — Capt. Emory Myers, commanding officer of Fort Omaha, said Wednesday he had no knowledge of a recommendation to move the Naval Reserve Training Command headquarters from Fort Omaha.

Capt. Myers said he was unaware that a survey had been made by a Navy team although one man had come from the Department of Defense last fall to look over the base.

His observation followed a report by the Omaha World-Herald's Washington bureau that a Navy survey team had recommended that the headquarters be moved from Fort Omaha for economy reasons. The report said it was not learned whether the suggested plans contemplated moving the headquarters from Omaha or relocating within the city.

Capt. Myers said he doubted it would be economical to obtain a new and suitable headquarters site in any other area.

Skies Won't Be Blue Thursday

Blue skies are not destined for Nebraskans Thursday, with considerable cloudiness and occasional snow predicted across the state.

High temperatures are expected to range from 18 to 25 in the east and central to near 40 in the Panhandle. Snow flurries are forecast for the central and southeast portions.

Wednesday's state high was 53 at Lincoln Air Force Base, while Omaha boasted the low of 15. Lincoln's high was 52, its low, 31.

Oysters Die

Ostend, Belgium (AP) — Experts estimate about 400,000 oysters died under the thick ice pack of the unusually severe winter here.
